Corvette Regina Sunk In Invasion Waters

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Loss of the Canadian corvette Regina with two dead and 27 missing was announced today by Navy Minister Macdonald. Of the 60 survivors, eight are in hospital—one dangerously wounded, two seriously wounded and the remainder not serious.

Two Missing

Four Edmonton Sailors Served Aboard Regina

Four Edmonton sailors were aboard the Canadian corvette Regina, loss of which was announced Friday by Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, minister of national defence for naval services. Of the four, two are reported missing and two are among the survivors.

They are:

Missing

Ceder J. A. Rutter, 144 street and 90 avenue.

AB. N. K. Beaton, 11745 92 street.

Survivors

EA. George Sims, 11202 77 avenue.

AB. R. B. Wilkins, 211 Alexandra block.

The Regina was sunk by enemy action when it went to the assistance of a merchant ship "in difficulties in invasion waters."

Mr. Macdonald gave few details of the sinking which occurred when Regina went to the assistance of a merchant ship" in difficulties in invasion waters."

The navy release merely said the Regina was damaged, without giving the cause. She was headed for shallow waters in an attempt at beaching, but the "abandon ship" order had to be given before she made shore.

SEVENTH CORVETTE LOST

Regina is the 17th warship and the seventh corvette lost by the Royal Canadian Navy in this war.

One of the first revised corvettes which succeeded the old "flower" class, Regina was built by Marine Industries, Sorel, Que., and was commissioned in January, 1942.

Among her early duties in the spring of 1942 was a successful search for survivors of a merchant vessel. She was attached to western escort forces until the

Special Session Of House Only If Need Arises

VANCOUVER, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Premier Manning of Alberta said in an interview here last night that if it is found necessary to call a special session to authorize election of a member from each of the armed services, one will be called. He added a decision regarding necessity of a special session will be made by the government's legal department. "However," he continued, "it looks now that we will be able to carry out the soldier vote plans without a session."

Fund Growing

REGINA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—The Kamsack emergency fund reached the five figure mark Thursday as donations of all sizes from widespread sections in the province kept pouring into fund headquarters in Regina. The grand total now stands at $21,508.

Nazi Resistance In Southern France Is Reported Crumbling

ROME, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Forces of the U.S. 7th Army swiftly expanded their front in Southern France today, reaching the vicinity of Sollies-Pont, six miles northeast of Toulon. Other units, stabbing northward against crumbling enemy resistance, advanced seven miles to the Brignoles area, 20 miles north of Toulon. In the sectors farther east forward elements moved three miles or more west and southwest of Draguignan, a road centre 18 miles inland in the Argens valley.

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ROME, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Enemy resistance in southern France was officially reported crumbling today before the advance of Allied forces, now consolidating into a mighty striking force by the union of all the elements landed on the Riviera beachhead from the sea and air. German prisoners, including a general and his staff, were estimated to total 7,000 with the count still incomplete.

Maj.-Gen. Alexander M. Patch's forces struck inland through the valleys of the Maritime Alps and spread out 50 airline miles along the coast both east and west.

Last official reports placed them within 10 miles of the once great French naval base of Toulon and within six miles of Cannes. German broadcasts hinted that the resort town already had been penetrated.

HOLD PART OF ROAD

The Allied forces already possess a big chunk of the main lateral road across southern France, which in this area parallels the coast about a dozen miles inland. They were a considerable distance along the road that runs into the Rhone valley by way of Aix-En-Provence, 14 miles north of Marseille.

The situation in southern France was going so well that Mediterranean air forces were able to divert heavy bombers to Balkan targets again. Tactical aircraft swept over the skies in support of ground troops without meeting any opposition

The Nazi command had entrusted the defence of the invasion area to two German infantry divisions, the 242nd and the 148th. The main Al-

Three Members

J. G. Taggart Heads Farm Price Board

OTTAWA, Aug. 18—(CP)—Composition of the farm price board was announced yesterday by Agriculturee Minister Gardiner with J. G. Taggart, former minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, as chairman.

The board will dispose of a fund of $200,000,000 authorized under an act passed at the last session of parliament. It will have power to buy and sell farm products should prices fall below the level deemed equitable in post-war years, paying for them a fixed price and disposing of them at a loss if necessary.

THREE-MAN BOARD

As announced by Agriculture Minister Gardiner in the House when the act was under discussion, Mr. Taggett, the chairman, is the only permanent member of the three-man board appointed at this stage.

Two officials of the agriculture department, A. M. Shaw, director of marketing and chairman of the agriculturral supplies board, and Dr. J. F. Booth, head of the economics branch of the department, are appointed temporary members.

Permanent members will be chosen later when the time approaches at which the board may be called upon to function actively.

Grain Bottleneck At Head of Lakes

By JAMES McCOOK

FORT WILLIAM, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Efforts were being made today to meet the "acute" labor shortage at the lakehead, required to unload more than 10,000,000 bushels of wheat on railway tracks here and remove a bottleneck in movement of western grain to world markets.

A. A. Heaps, special controller appointed by the federal government to remove the bottleneck, said a major increase in shipments through the lakehead is essential to meet needs of the Allied nations now engaged in the liberation of Europe.

"The Allied requirements of grain two months ago meant the unloading here of 1,200 cars of grain a day and the loading of a similar amount on the boats," said Mr. Heaps, former labor member of parliament for Winnipeg.

"We never reached that total except on one or two days. The average unloading was about 1,100 a day in June and July. In July, after the invasion of Europe, the demand for Canadian grain by Great Britain and other Allies increased to the point where an average unloading of 1,366 cars a day is required from August 1 to the close of navigation in the first week of December.

"Unloadings thus far in August have been disappointing—about 950 cars a day, due to a number of causes."

Hunt For Escaped Prisoners-of-War Now in Sixth Day

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Search by police and soldiers for two German prisoners of war who escaped Sunday from the hostel at Barnwell was in its sixth day today.

Sought are: Heinz Pfeifer, 23, and Erich Robras, 42, who had been sent to the Barnwell hostel the previous evening from the large prisoner-of-war camp here to give haircuts to the 70 Germans stationed at the work camp.

Nazis Admit Battle Is Lost In Normandy

LONDON, Aug. 18—(CP)—The German agency D.N.B. said today the Germans had given up the battle of Normandy. Further Allied gains in southern France were admitted.

"The Normandy front has been liquidated by the Germans," said Dr. Max Krull, D.N.B. military correspondent.

"German forces are retreating and swift allied troops are trying to gain new positions to outflank and even encircle them.

"An attempt of this sort is being made at Dreux where thrusts in several directions, including Paris, are being made. The lines are everywhere dented and interwoven to an extraodinary degree."

Spies Rounded Up

ROME, Aug. 18. — (AP) — Allied authorities announced 95 per cent. of the Italian spies and saboteurs sent by the Germans to liberated Italy have been rounded up.

Promoted

Awarded the DSO for gallantry in Italy last month, Brig. Daniel C. Spry, 31, of Winnipeg, has been promoted to acting major-general. A permanent force officer, he went overseas with the Royal Canadian Regiment in 1939, and served in England, Sicily and Italy.

Basis of Need

Financial Aid For Education By Govt. Urged

WINNIPEG, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Dr. E. Floyd Willoughby, president of the Canadian Teachers' Federation, said today that unless the Dominion government provides assistance for the provinces, education can never be raised to the status it should occupy in a democratic society.

In an address prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association, now in its second day here, Dr. Willoughby said the British North America Act gave the provinces autonomy in education matters. But the time had arrived when the Federal Government must see to it that the provinces are also given sufficient financial assistance.

MUST PROVIDE MONEY

"The plain truth is that education can never be raised to the status it should occupy in a democratic society unless the Dominion Government provides the necessary money by liberal grants on the basis of need."

He urged delegates to "get behind" federal aid for education because not only political institutions but all democratic institutions are directly dependent on adequate education for democracy.

"It is apparent that if we develop

Across Frontier

Reds Mass for Full-Scale Drive Into East Prussia

By HENRY SHAPIRO

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

MOSCOW, Aug. 18—The 3rd White Russian Army, massing along a broadening front on the Szeszuppe River, border of East Prussia, began an intensive air and artillery bombardment today preparatory to a full-scale drive across the frontier towards Konigsberg in the first invasion of the "holy soil" of German in this war.

(An NBC broadcast from Moscow said reports had reached the Soviet capital that the Red Army already had crossed the East Prussian frontier.)

Soviet patrols already may have pushed across the narrow, shallow Szeszuppe into Germany's easternmost province to test enemy resistance, but there was no evidence yet that the long-expected advance in force had started.

BOMBARDMENT

Russian mobile guns, rushed up to the east bank and arrayed in close order, joined Red Air Force bombers in laying down a pulverizing bombardment designed to flatten barbed wire entanglements, pillboxes and other defences hastily thrown up by the Germans behind the frontier in the past few weeks.

Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's 3rd Army reached the Prussian border yesterday on both sides of the Kaunas Konigsberg railway northwest of Mariampole, smashing to within 41 miles east of the big railway junction of Insterburg and 82 miles of Konigsberg.

Steadily broadening and widening his hold on the east bank of the Szeszuppe to protect the Soviet flanks, Cherniakhovsky swept up 30 Lithuanian towns and villages against bitter enemy resistance.

(A German communique acknowledged the loss of Vilkaviskis, just south of the railway and 11 miles from the frontier. The town previously had changed several times in see-saw fighting.)

NAZIS ANNIHILATED

Several German divisions, including Grenadier Regiments and one panzer division known as the Gross Deutschland, recently transferred from Italy, were annihilated in the battle of the frontier. Hundreds of enemy tanks and guns and thousands of bodies littered the battlefield.

Montgomery's Headquarters Says Nazi Power to Resist Effectively in France Gone

TWENTY-FIRST ARMY GROUP HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 18.—(CP-Reuter)—The battle of Normandy has been won and the Germans' power to resist effectively again in France now is gone, said a senior staff officer at Gen. Montgomery's headquarters tonight.

WITH ALLIED FORCES IN FRANCE, Aug. 18.—(BUP)—American troops were reported meeting German resistance on the southwestern approaches to Paris today, midway between Etampes and Dourdan, about 23 miles below the capital.

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 18—(AP)—American armored patrols were reported operating today in the vicinity of Paris, with its famous Eiffel Tower already in sight, as 1st Canadian Army forces thrust eastward along the Normandy coast in the direction of Le Havre.

(A dispatch of the German-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau said American tank columns were only 12 miles west of Paris and that there was a "war of movement" adjacent to the capital. Transocean said U.S. armor had reached Rambouillet, 20 miles southwest of Paris on a highway near Chartres. On another Chartres-Paris highway to the south, German reports had placed an American spearhead at St. Arnoult, 23 miles from Paris.)

Allied headquarters announced the fall of Authon, 30 miles south-south-west of Paris and just west of Etamps, and five miles nearer than advance elements had previously been placed officially.

"We are pushing eastward along the whole of our northern sector," headquarters said in announcing the coastal thrust by the 1st Canadian Army in eastern Normandy.

TRUN CAPTURED

The gap between Canadian and American forces south of Falaise was narrowed to two or three miles as Canadian and Polish troops captured Trun, 10 miles south-east of Falaise, after a speedy drive which

Power Survey Is Considered For Northland

Survey of potential power development on the Lockhart River will be undertaken by the Calgary Power Company if mining explorations being carried out in the Yellowknife area fulfill current satisfactory reports, C. A. Gaherty, Montreal, president of the company, stated in an interview here Friday.

He said the company was contemplating sending a survey party of six under the direction of B. A. Monkman, company engineer, to survey the waters of the Lockhart River with a view to power development of electric energy for the Yellowknife mining territory. The party will start for the northland as soon as aerial pictures of the river now on the way from Ottawa have been examined.

BIG PLANT

Asked concerning the size of the development contemplated Mr. Gaherty said that the plant would have a capacity of not less than 25,000 horse power. He added that its construction, which would be entirely contingent on the development of the mining properties in the area, would cost in excess of $2,000,000.

Reports of spectacular discoveries in the Yellowknife area have been heard in Edmonton, but interested persons have declined to comment on them, and also have given out

Occupation of Germany Certain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. — (AP) — President Roosevelt said today there was a rather general understanding among the Allies for occupation of Germany regardless of how or when the Nazis give up.

The President told a news conference that while there were no detailed arrangements there was a general understanding with Russia and Britain on the question. He said you could not plan all of the details in advance, but everything was going along all right.

Responding to a question, he expressed the belief that it would be just as easy to reach an understanding with China for occupation of Japan.

He said that certainly he was going to confer with Prime Minister Churchill again, but when asked whether it would be this year, he replied by saying that that was the same old story.

Invasion Briefs

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 18— (CP)—Germans south of the Seine are in full retreat today in the general direction of Rouen.

LONDON, Aug. 18—(CP Cable)—Belgian and Dutch troops are fighting with the 1st Canadian army in France, it was officially revealed here today.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Allied planes scourged German troops both west and east of the Seine escape barrier today, and smashed a comeback attempt of the German air force by shooting down 23 enemy planes in a series of air battles.

On 38 Raids

Veteran Airman "Awfully Glad" To Arrive Home

With 38 bombing raids against Hitler-held Europe to his credit FO. W. L. "Bill" Dark, DFC, was "awfully glad to get home" Friday morning but after almost three years in England he said he "kind of hated to leave" because he'd had such a "lot of fun the last couple of years".

An observer aboard heavy bombers, the 26-year-old officer has completed two tours of operations. He took part in the first 1,000 plane bombing raids against Germany in 1942 and was mentioned in news dispatches for his part in "shows" at Duesseldorf and in the Ruhr. In November, 1943, he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for outstanding service.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dark, 10207 121 street, and is spending a month's leave at home before taking over duties in transport work at the west coast.

ON SECOND TOUR

On his second tour, which he did with the Leaside squadron, FO. Dark's pilot was Sqdn. Ldr. Bob Hess, DFC, a former school chum at Iroquois, Ont., whom he hadn't seen for several years.

Born in Biggar, Sask., he went to school at Edmonton, Iroquois, Victoria and Toronto and studied optometry for one year at Queen's University, Kingston.

FO. Dark enlisted in the RCAF here in June 1940 and received his training at Malton, Ont., Fingal and Rivers, proceeding overseas in September, 1941.

LONDON, Aug. 18. — (CP) — The Germans made a short flying bomb attack on London and the southern counties early last night, and a terse official announcement this morning said both casualties and damage were caused.

Allied Forces Sealing New Trap on Nazis

By ROGER G. GREENE

ON THE FALAISE FRONT, Aug. 18—(AP)—Allied troops in a new wide encircling manoeuvre were rapidly sealing a new trap today on remnants of the broken German 7th army, estimated now to number between 40,000 and 100,000.

"The trap is closing and the circle is being completed," a British staff officer said.

Gen. Montgomery in a surprise coup sent his forces on a wide sweep east of the Falaise exit, and was snapping shut the steel jaws of the trap in the Trun sector.

British and Canadian troops captured Trun. Approaching American army forces thrust up from the south.

Field Marshal Von Kluge apparently extricated the bulk of his armor, but remnants of several panzer divisions were known to be still inside the bulge.

A headquarters commentator said "quite a few" enemy troops escaped last night under cover of darkness.

Meanwhile Allied bombers and rocket firing Typhoons took a heavy toll of German transport, destroying 300 vehicles and damaging 300 others.

On the British 2nd Army front alone 950 prisoners were seized yesterday.

U.S. Airmen Bomb French Warship

ROME, Aug. 18—(AP)—American medium bombers scored direct hits today on the French battleship Strasbourg in Toulon harbor in an effort to silence its guns with which the Germans had been firing on advancing Allied troops.

The Strasbourg, a 26,500-ton ship launched in 1936, was partly submerged by the French when they scuttled their fleet at Toulon in 1941. The Germans were able to use her guns although she was partly dismantled.

Airmen said they scored several direct hits on the 702-foot ship and also hit the French cruiser La Galissonniere, a destroyer and a submarine in the harbor.

lied thrust was made between those two divisions, creating considerable confusion among enemy troops already badly battered by bombing.

BEACHHEAD EXTENDED

While the invaders have extended their beachhead 50 airline miles along the coast, actually it is double that distance because of the extremely tortuous shoreline.

Officially the troops were reported 25 miles inland, but unofficial reports put them beyond 30 miles.

The last pocket of resistance on the Hyeres islands off the coast was eliminated when big guns of an Allied battleship pounded the thick walls of a medieval fort on the island of Port-Cros.

Fall of La Napoule, coastal village four miles south-west of Cannes gave the troops a full view of the resort city across the Gulf of Napoule.

PLANE CARRIERS USED

A naval communique disclosed that aircraft carriers were being used with British and American planes operating from them. Not only to give cover to warships but to bomb and strafe enemy positions.

Use of the carriers permitted far more effective fighter support than otherwise would have been possible at the time of the landings, since the nearest land fighter bases were in Corsica, almost 150 miles away.

A stream of reinforcements and supplies continued to pour into the beachhead from the sea without interference, naval officials said.

The warships that bombarded the shore in the invasion operations fired almost 16,000 shells of five-inch calibre and above, and of these 12,500 were 12-inch or larger. Results were reported as "most effective in neutralizing enemy artillery."

Canadian assault troops, believed to be part of the Canadian-American special service force which fought on the Anzio beachhead earlier this year, also took part in the landings and two Canadian warships carried some of the invasion forces.

Canuck Captives At Osaka, Japan, Receive Supplies

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—The Wartime Information Board in a statement issued yesterday said that last April a relief shipment from the American Red Cross was distributed to prisoners of war at Osaka, Japan, where 46 Canadians are held along with 345 other Allied prisoners.

The parcels contained food, toilet articles, shoes and medicines.

The diet at the camp consists mainly of rice, bread, barley, soybeans, sorghum, meat and fish, vegetables, and small amounts of fruit, tea and sugar. The prisoners receive no eggs, milk, butter or cheese, coffee or canned food, said the Board.

Most of the prisoners-of-war do factory work for which they are paid.

"How about a good course in military law?"

Viceroy Refuses Gandhi Interview

NEW DELHI, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Field Marshal Lord Wavell, the Viceroy of India, has rejected a request for an interview by Mohandas K. Gandhi, who offered to urge full Nationalist support of the war effort if India be granted immediate independence, it was announced today.

The Viceroy said that because of their sharp differences nothing could be gained by such a meeting now, but he added that he would be glad to consider any "definite and constructive policy."

Gandhi offered to advise the Nationalist congress to give full support to the war effort "if a declaration of immediate Indian independence be made, and a national government responsible to a central assembly be formed, subject to the provision that during the pendency of the war military operations should continue as at present, but without involving any financial burden on India."

Famous Cathedral Is Little Damaged

By the Canadian Press

The beautiful twin-spired cathedral of Notre Dame, known to tourists the world over, escaped serious war damage when the city of Chartres was liberated by the Allied push across northern France.

The only damage was the nicking of the stone around an aperture in the gothic tower from which six Germans were sniping, and the knocking out of some chunks of the Romanesque tower, front dispatches reported.

When the six snipers ran out of ammunition they surrendered and were marched off through an infuriated, hooting crowd.

Noted for its beautiful stained glass windows, some of the finest existing today, the cathedral is one of the oldest, most historic in France. Its windows earlier had been removed to prevent their being damaged in event the war swept through Chartres.

Planes Hit France After Night Raids

LONDON, Aug. 18—Allied bombers and fighters attacked targets throughout northern France against increasing air opposition today and Nazi radios reported that formations of bombers also had struck into the Danube area.

The daylight operations following extensive raids through the night by British and Italian based bombers which ranged over Germany and Romania.

Mosquitos of the RAF Bomber Command attacked Mannheim in Germany without loss, while Mediterranean bombers returned to the Ploesti oil fields in Romania for the second time in one day.

RAF Wellingtons, Halifaxes and Liberators bombed the Venia refinery through hazy weather which made the operation difficult, although two fires, accompanied by an explosion, were started.

In the first raid on Ploesti yesterday, American Liberators concentrated on the Romano-Americano refinery, one of the four largest in the fields and formerly owned by Standard Oil.

Jap Garrisons Are Blockaded

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Aug. 18—(AP)—An Allied air and naval blockade spread creeping paralysis today across vital sea lanes south of the Philippines, posing an ultimate threat to all Japanese holdings south of China.

Already enemy garrisons on islands scattered along a distance of 800 miles are forced to rely on "makeshift shipping", inadequate "for even essential items such as munitions and aviation gasoline."

Today's southwest Pacific communique reported the fifth air raid this month on the Philippines and the knocking out of 23 planes at neutralized Halmahera.

Allied headquarters said Japan's big ships no longer dare venture southeast of a line curved from the Philippines through Celebes and Ceram.

N.B. Forest Fire Situation Better

FREDERICTON, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Although still dangerous, the forest fire situation in New Brunswick was generally improved today after rain fell for more than an hour in York County and parts of Sunbury during a heavy electrical storm.

Crews in the hard-stricken Minto district had a respite when flames made only a slight advance. Nearly 75 families have been burned out of their homes in that area. The situation in a triangular area between Moncton, Boundary Creek and Berry Mills, where 16 families have lost houses or barns or both, was said to be well in hand.

mopped up a number of towns and villages.

Lt.-Gen. Crerar, 1st Canadian army commander, described the Germans as "very groggy." Congratulating the Canadian forces which captured Falaise yesterday, Gen. Crerar said "we shall shortly knock him (the enemy) out."

Authon was captured by an American 3rd Army armored column in a lightning drive 21 miles due east of Chartres beyond the Aunay river.

(CBS quoted the BBC as saying U.S. spearheads had reached "the outskirts of Paris.")

Giving instructions to patriots within the city, a supreme command spokesman said over the American broadcast station in Europe that "the day is not far off when you will have to rise and chase out the enemy and his accomplices."

"You can already hear the guns and soon you will hear the rumble of the tanks," the spokesman added.

CROSS DIVES RIVER

In the eastern surge 1st Canadian army forces captured Bures, 1½ miles north—east of Troarn, and plunged across the Dives river occupying Bassenville, three miles north east of Troarn.

Other towns captured in this drive on the heels of fleeing remnants of the German 7th army included Mezidon and St. Pierre-Sur-Dives, on the Dives river, 14 and 18 miles south-east of Caen. North of Mezidon the Canadian army troops reached the Dives north to beyond Troarn.

BRIDGES WRECKED

Forty and more miles east of Troarn Allied bombers yesterday had wrecked most bridges spanning the river Risle from Foulbeg near its mouth to La Ferrier-Sur-Risle, 35 miles upstream.

(The Germans acknowledged they had lost the battle of Normandy. A broadcast said the fleeing forces were trying to escape another large Allied trap. "The Normandy front has been liquidated by the Germans," said Dr. Max Krull, military correspondent of D.N.B.)

In Brittany, the long siege of St. Malo, ended when the rock-bound citadel finally sent up the white flag and 560 prisoners were taken. Brittany now is cleared of Germans except for garrisons in Brest, Lorient and St. Nazaire.

Among towns overrun as Lt. Gen. Patton's American 3rd Army surged southward was Vendome, 43 miles southeast of Le Mans.

The Allied advances placed nearly a dozen key airfields in France within Allied possession.

British and American forces advancing along the north and south sides of the Normandy pocket encountered only light German rearguard action and the clean-up appeared near at hand. The pocket now is so small that air force operations are strictly limited because of the danger of bombing Allied troops.

By The Canadian Press

The Allied line in western France today runs from a point just east of the Orne river mouth roughly southeast for 30 miles to a point north of Trun. Here it shoots west through a point about three miles south of Falaise to five miles southeast of Conde, to a point east of Ger, to Domfront, to one mile north of La Fertemace to one mile north of Fromentel, to two miles north of Argentan—forming the Normandy pocket.

From here the path of the line is not disclosed, but eastward thrusts have reached to three miles beyond Dreux, to the vicinity of Rambouillet and Etampes. South of these places Orleans has been captured, and southwest Chateaudun and Vendome From Vendome the line again follows an undisclosed southwesterly route to Angers, thence to Nantes, where it bulges over the river Loire for 10 miles then arcs back over the river to St. Nazaire.

the war and until defeat of the former Saskatchewan Liberal government last June, performed double duty as a key federal government official and member of a provincial government. He served as chairman of the bacon board, now the meat board, and as foods administrator under the prices board.

MAY HANDLE SALES

In addition to stepping in to protect farmers from disastrous price drops the new board is expected to function on behalf of the government after the war in any bulk sales of food products made to other countries. This type of business is handled by various boards in the department, such as the meat board, established under special wartime orders.

A report three weeks ago named Mr. Taggart as the board chairman but Agriculture Minister Gardiner would only say at that time that no decision had been made.

Born in Nova Scotia Mr. Taggart graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College and began a career as an agricultural representative in Ontario. Later he went to Alberta on the staff of the Provincial Department of Agriculture and for some time was principal of the agricultural school at Olds. He then went to Swift Current, Sask., as superintendent of the Dominion experimental station.

ELECTED IN 1934

He was elected to the provincial legislature in 1934 and was appointed minister of agriculture and continued as such until re...ntly.

In December, 1939, he was appointed chairman of the bacon board, now the meat board, and later served as foods administrator under the prices board.

Mr. Shaw served as agricultural agent for the Great Northern Railways with headquarters at St. Paul, Minn., a position that entailed wide travel throughout the British Isles, the United States and Canada, buying breeding stock for the newly opened farms contiguous to the lines of the Great Northern system.

Dr. Booth's earliest years were spent in Manitoba. Following his graduation from the University of Saskatchewan in 1919 he served as an agricultural representative in Saskatchewan for a year when he was appointed provincial director of marketing. He took his Lh.D. at Cornell three years later.

Nazi Defenders of Falaise 'Duck Soup' for Canadians

By CHARLES LYNCH

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FALAISE, Aug. 18.—(CP)—I stood on a hilltop in Falaise yesterday and looked down over the corridor behind which the German 7th Army is being trapped. Just a few miles away Americans are driving up from Argentan to meet us.

I had expected plenty of gunfire with the Germans trying to force a passage while they could. But in two hours in Falaise I did not hear one artillery piece—either German or our own.

The only gunfire we heard came from the snipers who still infest Falaise and from the parties of Canadian infantrymen who are hunting them.

In the centre of the town we met the colonel of the tank regiment which was first into Falaise. He said that there was no comparison between the entry into Caen and into Falaise.

"In Caen we were against the SS boys and there was fierce fighting," he said. "Here it was just ordinary German infantrymen—duck soup."

On the way out of Falaise we met men who had been among the first to enter Falaise. They were Ptes. Emilien Nolan of Quebec City, Elphige Fournier of La Sarre, Que., and P. A. Thompson of Banff, Alta.

They said that the main opposition inside the city was from snipers. Nolan was hunting them with a Schmeiser which he had taken from a sniper he had killed two hours before.

Power Survey Is Considered For Northland

little information on the surveys that are being conducted in the territory.

MANY VISITORS

That considerable interest is being taken in the development work being carried out is borne out by the fact that many chief executives of mining corporations have made trips into the northland, and on return have declined to comment.

Mr. Gaherty said that rapid progress is being made in the completion of the power facilities in connection with the rural electrification experiment being carried out in the Olds district.

Under the experiment it is proposed to bring energy to 100 farm homes. Thirteen miles of line have now been staked, and 58 farmers of the district have signed up to take power supplied by the company.

TO OBSERVE COSTS

Observation will be taken on the cost of installation of the power lines, cost of operation and maintenance, and also of the benefit which farm electrification has been to the farmer, Mr. Gaherty stated. He said the company was working in close co-operation with the Dominion and provincial departments of agriculture in this experiment.

Alberta Soldier Gets U.S. Award

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Two members of the Canadian army have received awards for gallantry in the Italian campaign conferred upon them by President Roosevelt, the Defence Department announced last night. The awards:

SILVER STAR

Staff Sgt. R. N. Cuff, 25, Lethbridge, Alta.

BRONZE STAR MEDAL

Sgt. G. A. Hart, 33, Dawson Creek, B.C.

S-Sgt. Cuff, leading the centre section of a three-pronged platoon attack on the hill feature of San Nicoli, May 31, found his section under intense mortar and machine-gun fire as it approached buildings on the hilltop.

"Realizing the entire platoon was endangered by this stiff resistance he unhesitatingly charged the nearest buildings, cleared several buildings with his sub-machine gun and killed seven of the enemy," his citation said. "In doing so he drew heavy enemy fire upon himself, thereby enabling all sections of the platoon to get into position to successfully drive off a severe counter-attack and hold the hill. . . ."

Flames Wipe Out 40 to 50 Buildings At Harbor Grace

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 18.—(CP)—A four-hour fire raged through the business section of Harbor Grace yesterday and wiped out between 40 and 50 buildings before it was brought under control last night.

Royal Canadian Navy fire crews, speeding to the town 60 miles northwest of the capital, helped gain control of the flames which for a time threatened to wipe out the whole Harbor Grace's business district.

Two hotels, the post office and telephone exchange were among the buildings destroyed. Several shops were levelled and many dwellings. Most of the structures were of wooden construction. There was no estimate of the loss last night.

DESIRE FOR PEACE

Appropriate educational measures would foster among all peoples in every part of the world "an intelligent desire for peace with understanding of the conditions for maintaining it."

"Such provision for the international planning and organization of education must be included in any post-war planning that seeks to accomplish lasting results."

J. S. Davis, director of the Food Research Institute, Stanford university, last night urged Canada to throw her weight in the scales for freer trade, both domestic and foreign, in post-war years.

He warned that an agricultural crisis was being built up and suggested all should keep out of the fool's paradise of denying wheat surpluses.

"The price of wheat in the United States is too high, he said. "We have priced ourselves out of the export market. If prices are kept up artificially the fall will be all the greater when it comes. If it is necessary to protect farmers against extreme distress that protection should be in such forms as crop yield insurance and supervised credit."

Soldier Gets BEM For Throwing Away Live Hand Grenade

OTTAWA, Aug. 18—(CP)—A sergeant who threw a live grenade clear of a training pit has been awarded the British Empire Medal, defence headquarters announced last night.

He is Sgt. G. J. Gardiner, 26, of Winnipeg.

Sgt. Gardiner, who went overseas in 1943, was in charge of a squad carrying out grenade training in a chalk pit Feb. 21. The men were cleaning and priming grenades to be thrown later.

"Several grenades had been primed ready for throwing when one man mistakenly pulled the pin on one of them," said Gardiner's citation. "Sgt. Gardiner, seeing the grenade smoking and realizing an explosion was imminent . . . rushed forward, picked up the grenade and managed to throw it clear of the pit, where it immediately burst in the air."

Sale of Bottled Beer in Sask. To Be Studied

REGINA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Whether bottled beer will continue to be sold in hotels, in off the premises sales and in beer parlors, will be decided in meetings shortly to take place between Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines and representatives of the Saskatchewan Hotel-keepers Association.

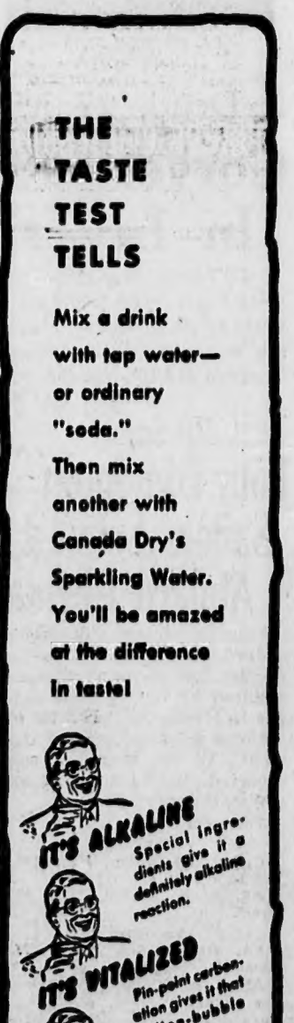

The question has arisen following the announcement of Mr. Fines that a coupon system of rationing of bottled beer will go into effect September 15.

If bottled beer sales will be left with hotels, coupons will have to be surrendered, whether the beer is an off the premises sale or whether it is sold and consumed in a beer parlor.

The rationing system will not affect beer by the glass.

Weather-Impeded Invasion Is Now Back on Schedule

By JAMES M. LONG

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The American 3rd Army's mighty uppercut to the Seine which has knocked the German army out of northwestern France was planned months before D-Day on mapping tables at Allied supreme headquarters. Nothing in the attack, it was disclosed last night by a high staff officer, was improved or off-the-cuff strategy.

Its whole execution of adapting the original plan to immediate front conditions, which, admittedly did not fit with advance plotting, was in the hands of field commanders from Gen. Montgomery down.

The swiftest sweep since the Avranches breakthrough, this week's advance put the weather-hampered invasion at least back on schedule. Location of lines—and of the Falaise pocket—was not exactly the same as that spotted on the advance plan, but in total miles it was not much different.

UNOFFICIAL INFORMATION

Best unofficial information was that the pocket was supposed to have clamped down between Argenton and Alencon, instead of from Falaise to Argentan where it finally developed.

But the fact the plan called for this great supporting sweep in between the Falaise pocket and Paris indicated headquarters never had counted on the initial trap completing the destruction of the German 7th army.

The Germans obviously were fooled. Had they known the new cut-in drive was hidden behind a complete Allied news blackout the past week, there is little likelihood they would have stayed to fight as long as they did in the Falaise sack. They particularly would have pulled out armor which they left to hold open the jaws between Falaise and Argentan.

The Germans had only two choices: Get out of the middle of Normandy earlier or stop both cut-in drives from the south. They did neither.

Canadian Corvette "Regina" Sunk

Sinking of HMCS "Regina" while on invasion duties was announced today by Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, Minister of National Defence for Naval Services. The "Regina" is the 17th Canadian war vessel to be lost since the outbreak of the present war. Casualties include two dead and 27 missing. HMCS "Regina", pictured here, had previously seen service in the North Atlantic and the Mediterranean. While serving the latter area, she engaged and sank an Italian submarine with gunfire and took 21 prisoners. One of the first of the revised corvettes, the "Regina" was commissioned in January, 1942.

Provost Corps Units Can Demand to See Registration Cards

REGINA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Units of the Canadian Provost Corps now have the power, along with police and peace officers, to ask any person to produce his registration certificate, it has been announced in Regina by Maj. S. L. Waterman, deputy assistant Provost Marshal for Military District 12.

Under an order-in-council of June 9, all units of the Provost Corps in Canada have been designated as a corps for the purpose of national registration regulations.

Purpose of the power being given to the Provost Corps said Maj. Waterman, is to facilitate the apprehension of absentees and deserters, many of whom are dressed in civilian clothing.

Bulgar Premier States Country Seeking Peace

LONDON, Aug. 18—(CP)—Premier Ivan Bagrianov, addressing an extraordinary session of the Bulgarian parliament, threw out a peace bid yesterday, declaring "the government is determined to remove all obstacles which stand in the way of the Bulgarian people's love for peace."

"The majority of the Bulgarian people," the Bulgarian radio quoted him as saying, "never wanted to interfere in a large-scale conflict between great powers. The government declares it fully recognizes this."

Reports have circulated in Allied circles for weeks that Bulgaria, first central power to crack in the First Great War, was trying to find a way out of this one.

UNDER SOVIET PRESSURE

She was for a time under considerable pressure from Soviet Russia, with whom she is not at war, to get out while there still was time, but German forces inside the Balkan country have been a major obstacle.

Criticizing the policies of previous Bulgarian governments, the Premier declared the country now was in a "state of economic chaos." He added that it would be "difficult" at this stage to "put everything in order" and called on the people to have "patience."

The people, he said, had never wished to become involved in a large-scale war because such a conflict was beyond Bulgaria's strength and added the country "should not suffer in vain."

fall of 1942, when she underwent modernization and refitting at Sydney, N.S.

In December, 1942, Regina went overseas to start convoy escort duties between United Kingdom and North African Ports. While on this assignment, she went deeply into the area of active hostilities and had an encounter with an Italian submarine in the Mediterranean.

ENGAGED SUBMARINE

She brought the sub to the surface with depth charges and engaged it in a spectacular running gun duel. Terrific fire from Regina quickly took the fight out of the Italian. The sub sank soon afterwards and Regina picked up 21 survivors.

The commanding officer of the Regina is Lieut. Jack W. Radford, RCNR, of Sydney, N.S., who is among the survivors.

The corvette returned to Halifax in April, 1943, and subsequently carried on escort duty in the North Atlantic. Then, in April, 1943, she was assigned to invasion duties and spent May overseas in exercises preliminary to the invasion of France. Since D-Day Regina had been actively engaged in escorting convoys carrying munitions and supplies to the Allied forces in France.

United Labor Front Is Urged in Sask.

REGINA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Saskatchewan labor, no matter what its affiliation may be, has been asked by the CCF government to get together so that "a unified voice" of opinion and advice may be available to the government.

The government is asking the Canadian Congress of Labor, the Trades and Labor Congress and the railway running trades, to agree on a joint committee which will be available for consultation on matters of labor concern, legislation and appointments.

One from each group of the three groups is suggested for the three man committee.

"We hope they will form this committee and speak for all labor in the province," Labor Minister C. C. Williams said Wednesday. "The purpose of the committee is to enable the government to discuss questions of labor concern with it and to get labor's reaction."

Now YOU can send a whole box of Wrigley's Gum to Canadians serving Overseas!

$1.00 IS ALL IT COSTS YOU TO SEND 20 PACKAGES TO ANYONE IN THE CANADIAN ARMED FORCES OVERSEAS WE DO THE PACKAGING . . . WE PAY THE POSTAGE

This announcement is of great importance to every Canadian with loved ones in the Armed Forces Overseas. For some time the Canadian Wrigley Company has become increasingly aware that the men and women in our fighting forces overseas get only a small amount of the Wrigley's Gum they want.

During recent months, the demand for chewing gum in the armed forces has been increasing by leaps and bounds. This is due to the fact that men under the terrific strain and tension of battle get a feeling of comfort and relief by chewing on a piece of gum. Chewing helps to steady nerves, keeps the mouth moist—makes the tough going a little easier.

The Canadian Wrigley Company, to solve this problem, will ship all the gum it produces, if necessary, on the following Overseas Plan:

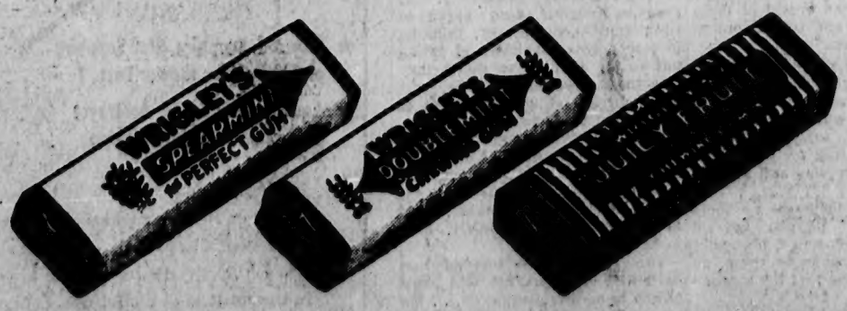

Under this new Wrigley plan you can send a 20-package box of Wrigley's Gum direct to any man or woman in the Canadian Armed Forces Overseas.

Just see your nearest retailer who is supplied with Wrigley Overseas Gum order forms.

Your order will be immediately sent to Wrigley's and they will acknowledge it to you.

Wrigley's are doing this because they feel that, with chewing gum so useful and helpful, Wrigleys' brands should go where they are needed most—to the men and women who are fighting on the battle fronts.

From Garson to Drew

Many of the things the people of Canada have been thinking about the atrocious assumption of Ontario's Premier Drew that his province will pay the major cost of family allowances are summed up neatly in the scathing reply made to him by Premier Garson of Manitoba.

Premier Garson bluntly characterizes as untrue the Drew claim that Ontario will pay 50 percent of the cost of these allowances. He declares that this 50 percent includes federal customs duties, excise tax and sales tax, levies entirely beyond the reach of any provincial government, which are imposed in Ontario because Toronto is a great manufacturing centre but which are actually paid in Western Canada and the Maritimes where the products of those manufacturies are sold.

As Mr. Garson points out, if Premier Drew's argument were valid, Toronto and Montreal could object because, as the industrial and commercial centres of Canada, they pay the highest federal taxes. Actually, Toronto and Montreal are only the nation's cash registers to whose bulging tills every Canadian in every part of Canada contributes.

It seems to be clear that Premier Drew's advocacy of more whisky and no family allowances as a platform for his provincial party has disgusted and alienated the rest of Canada.

To play political ducks and drakes with a measure that is not only widely humanitarian but increases the purchasing power of the Canadian people is a mean and sorry performance that will not increase the stature of Mr. Drew anywhere.

Dangerous Poppies

There is a tempest of public indignation in Winnipeg over the report that Ottawa has issued an order that all poppies must be cleared out of gardens because all poppy pods contain a greater or lesser amount of opium.

The R.C.M.P., entrusted with the administration of the Opium and Narcotics Act, claims that only one or two species of poppies, particularly rich in opium, are banned. Nevertheless, the wave of resentment still rides high.

While everyone is vigorously opposed to the use of narcotic drugs, there does seem to be something just a little farfetched about the drive against poppies.

It would require an exceedingly powerful stomach and an exceedingly strong head to endure any concoction prepared by amateurs from garden poppies. Only a person of diseased imagination could possibly derive any illicit pleasure from the nauseous mess so secured.

Moreover, there are dozens of other pharmaceutical herbs infinitely more dangerous than the opium poppy and no one appears to worry about them. Indian hemp, for instance, which can be grown almost anywhere, is ten times as dangerous and ten times as easy to prepare.

If there happened to be discovered a stand of opium poppies sufficiently large to indicate that professional drug peddlers were employing them, there might be cause for alarm.

Otherwise the current drive against poppies is just a trifle silly.

More Vichy Effrontery

The illicit and discredited Vichy administration of Marshal Petain may have suffered a total eclipse in all the enlightened capitals of the world. But the colossal effrontery of Petain himself remains as offensively brilliant as ever.

The story is that the Vichy leaders hope they may still avoid the consequences of their treason by playing up to General de Gaulle. To that end they are prepared, it is said, to nominate De Gaulle as France's leader.

It is reported that Petain has even written Washington offering to "legalize" De Gaulle's position by standing sponsor for him, pointing out that only he (Petain) has the constitutional right to do so.

This astounding offer is both ludicrous and insulting. It is ludicrous because of all the illegal governments ever formed on earth, Petain's was the most brazenly illegal. It hadn't the faintest shadow of color of right.

It is insulting because Petain, selling out to Germany and other alien groups, had actually gone so far as to condemn De Gaulle to death in 1941.

There has been a lot of nonsensical talk, in this country and elsewhere, about the towering ideals and high principles of Petain. Well, there's an example of them.

To a man whom he wanted to shoot three years ago, Petain now offers the government of France—for the sole reason of trying to save his own wretched old hide.

Children in Cities

Discussion of the merits of daytime nursery care for the children of working mothers concerns a Canadian problem that is of more than wartime duration. It is part of the problem, of increasing seriousness, of the place of the child in the modern urban community. Immediately and in the postwar years it demands the attention of parents, teachers, sociologists and community leaders and planners.

Proponents of government aided nursery schools have from the first planned them as a permanent basis. They have done so because they recognize that the entrance of millions of women in Canada and United States into industrial employment while accentuated by wartime manpower shortages was part of a trend that will continue in peacetime if industrial production is maintained at the level that may be expected under conditions of prosperity.

In addition they point out that for hundreds of thousands of children in the larger cities of Canada and United States the normal home life of the past is no longer possible. Even with mothers at home in tenements, flats and even comfortable apartments there is little opportunity for a natural out of doors life for the pre-school age child and even for the child attending school in after school hours.

The fact seems to be that modern industrial and city life has driven a wedge between the life of the community and the child. There is no longer the place for the child in the urban community that exists in country areas and smaller towns. In the country in spite of many apparent disadvantages the child is more definitely an integral part of the community. The boy or girl on the farm will share in the work of the farm or home. They are closer to the life of their parents and the work of the community.

For most children in the city the work of their fathers is completely out of their world. A large proportion of them are completely insulated from what might be called the bread and butter facts of life until they have completed their education. Playgrounds clubs and other organized recreational facilities can not take the place of free initiative open to the child in smaller communities and rural areas.

To provide a place for the child and youth must be part of the task of those planning our postwar urban communities. Improved educational facilities including more nursery schools and more recreational opportunities will only be part of the task. In addition some way must be found to develop a closer relationship between the child and the adult world in which he is growing that will give him a sense of participation in it without make believe.

Richard Secord has a dog, a genuine husky of the Eskimos, which since his arrival in civilization has learned to enjoy life by travelling. When he gets tired of a town he boards the baggage car on the train and gets off where he pleases. He is good natured and is never refused a ride. He has been absent for four months, has visited Banff and various stations in British Columbia, and when last heard of was at Fort Macleod.

A law suit of peculiar nature is to be tried in London, Ont., between two farmers. It appears a man named McRoberts was sadly pestered with grasshoppers, and with the aid of several neighbors, with tin pans, wires and brush, drove the whole horde into his neighbor's grain, to the complete demolition of the crop. The neighbor now brings action against McRoberts for the grasshopper raid.

Mad Commander of St. Malo

Once a People Surrender Liberty They Never Get It Back

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

The stand of the "mad commander, "Colonel Andreas Von Aulock, at St. Malo, is a microcosm of the whole German situation. Completely surrounded and cut off from any possible help, Colonel Von Aulock has been slaughtering our men and his own in a totally futile resistance. Furthermore, if we are to credit the statement of American prisoners, who were exchanged by him in return for medical supplies from our lines, his troops know this. They also speak of him as "mad." American officers tapped a telephone line leading into the citadel, and asked in a more or less friendly manner, "why don't you quit? You must know it's hopeless." The Germans in the citadel agreed, but said, "we can't do a thing; the commander won't let us."

Thompson Dorothy

In St. Malo there also has been a total mobilization like that of Goebbels, and even the cooks are fighting when they know it is suicide.

This little story ought to open our minds to the truth of truths that all free men must learn. It is this: Once a people surrenders its liberties, for whatever reason, it never again can recapture them. Only Commander Aulock can give his troops liberty from certain death. Commander Aulock, they say, is mad—but madness has become a matter of viewpoint. If the Nazis think it is not madness to wreck Germany and destroy the German people before they go down before our arms they can do so. For never once, since they relinquished their liberties to Hitler have the German people been able to control an iota of their fate.

Those who still have liberty cannot believe this. They have said, "If the German people wanted freedom, they would revolt." They cannot revolt, and Germany, like every other country which the Nazis occupy only can be liberated by our arms.

Consider the present situation of Germany.

The German general staff knows that the war is irretrievably lost. Some of them have tried to revolt, in order to save Germany from further senseless destruction. We cannot assume that Field Marshal Erwin Von Witzleben and other generals have been isolated personalities. The enmity against the Hitler regime was certainly stronger in many other strata of the German nation than in the officers' corps. In the last comparatively free elections, there were five to six million communist voters, and millions of them must still be alive. They cannot like this war. There were seven to eight million social democrats, who certainly cannot like the regime or the war. But whether or not they liked it at the beginning, the German people as a whole now know the regime has lost them a war. They are therefore daily committing suicide.

They know, too, that they will not get a better peace by their suicide. The Nazis, in their propaganda to the German people, do not even claim that they are fighting to get a better peace.

The new mobilization, from a propaganda viewpoint, is terrible. Men and women, exempted from military service for five years, are now called up. The last vestigial remains of normal civilian life are being destroyed. Early in July, I read in a German newspaper that twenty million people, a fourth of the population, are being fed in communal kitchens, since the home preparation of meals is out of the question.

Ten to twelve million foreigners, who are certainly against continuing the war, are working in German factories inside Germany. German casualties have been estimated by our authorities at nine million. That may be too high, but it is certain that they far exceed any losses under which the German people broke in the last war.

Furthermore, although the Anglo-American powers have given the German people no encouragement to revolt, this is not true of the Russians. Twenty-odd German generals are working with the Russian propaganda to Germany—something hitherto inconceivable, in the history of Germany or any other nation.

And still the regime holds, and dares to hang a field marshal and men whose names are as closely associated with German history as the names "Lowell," "Cabot" or "Adams" are with New England.

Not only that—neither Norwegians, nor Czechs, nor Poles revolt until Allied armies are on their soil. There are martyrs in all countries, as there have been in Germany. But the liberation of France is the work of the Anglo-American armies and not the result of a general uprising—even when our armies approach Paris.

So we must learn the lesson. In the modern world, a nation which relinquishes popular control over its destiny, takes an action that is irreversible, once the tyrant has established and solidified his regime. Such is the monstrous power of organized terror, arbitrary law, and the state that can liquidate opposition.

Dominion-Provincial Conference

Who Is to Blame for Need To Postpone It Past Election?

By D. T. RICHARDSON

OTTAWA.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King's explanation of the government's decision to postpone the Dominion-Provincial conference until "immediately following a general election" was based upon the hope that such a conference will be a success rather than a repetition of the January, 1941, conference, which was scuttled by the premiers of Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia.

The correspondence tabled by Mr. King just before the session ended, coupled with correspondence revealed last March, revealed steady deterioration of relations between the Dominion and the Ontario governments.

They key to this situation was the refusal of Premier George Drew to join with other provinces in sending a treasury official to Ottawa to assist in preparing uniform financial data for the conference.

The best way to assess this situation is to examine the correspondence from its inception last January, just before the parliamentary session started, to the final telegram sent by Mr. Drew to Mr. King on August 14. Mr. Drew based his refusal to allow a treasury official to assist the preparations for the conference upon a contention that the purpose of sending provincial officials was to prepare a conference agenda. Such work should be done by heads of the governments concerned. Against this contention, the correspondence showed clearly that the purpose was merely to prepare data. Was this a misunderstanding, a case of crossed wires? Or was it calculated obstruction of the conference?

In his final words to parliament, Mr. King left no doubt of his understanding of Mr. Drew's intention. He quoted a speech which revealed Drew's ambition to overthrow the federal government and make Mr. Bracken prime minister.

Such a statement could leave no doubt that a gulf existed between Toronto and Ottawa which can be bridged only by a general election in Canada. Mr. King said: "It must be apparent that any conference held before a federal election would have little or no hope of success and would almost certainly prejudice the success of a subsequent conference."

Early correspondence between Mr. King and Mr. Drew regarding a Dominion-Provincial conference was mixed with the dispute then raging over federal liquor restrictions. The first letter, dated January 6, 1944, was from Mr. Drew to Mr. King, suggesting a Dominion-Provincial conference on post-war planning, reconstruction, employment and financial relations. Mr. King replied, January 13, that he would ask all provinces for an expression of views on holding a conference, and a circular letter was sent to all provincial capitals. All favored holding a conference, but many wished to complete legislative sessions before.

The cabinet formed a committee under Mr. Crerar on February 14 to take charge of preparations, and a secretariat was organized. From past experience the need of uniform factual material on which all parties could rely was obvious. On February 28, the government asked the provinces to send a senior treasury official to assist.

Eight provinces complied, but Mr. Drew wrote on March 6 that until the general basis of the conference was understood, it was not possible to give instructions to a treasury official. Ten days later Mr. Drew suggested a preliminary conference "for the purpose of reaching some agreement regarding the steps which should be taken to establish an effective basis for co-operation."

On March 21, Mr. King replied, indicating the general scope of the conference. He urged Ontario to join in preparing financial data and suggested that procedure could be settled in informal discussions rather than a formal preliminary conference. Mr. Drew replied, March 25, that Ontario needed further details regarding the scope and procedure of the conference before it could prepare for it. In this letter he suggested a Dominion-Provincial planning board. On March 29, Mr. King outlined the statistical preparations being made by the other provinces and the Dominion, and again invited Ontario's co-operation. The planning board might well be discussed at the conference, he wrote.

When Mr. Drew again asked for a preliminary conference, in a letter dated April 1, Mr. King replied on April 6 that he would submit the proposal to the other provinces.

Seven provinces turned it down.

Meanwhile, Mr. Drew wrote to deny he had suggested Ontario did not find it possible to lend the services of a senior official, and suggested invitations to a conference be issued immediately. Mr. King wired, asking if Ontario was prepared to send an official to Ottawa, that D. A. Skelton, secretary of the Crerar committee of the cabinet, be advised.

Mr. Drew made no reply.

While Mr. King was absent at the London Imperial Conference, Mr. Ralston wrote to all provinces on May 13, enclosing suggestions for agenda and procedure for the conference.

Mr. Drew made no reply to this letter.

On his return, Mr. King wrote to Mr. Drew again, reviewing preparations and asking Ontario to send an official. Mr. Drew replied on June 20 that there had been no lack of co-operation on his part, but he had never received a clear explanation for the need of sending a treasury official to Ottawa. He said he hoped the conference would be held as soon possible.

Mr. King wrote to all provincial premiers on July 27, reporting on preparations for the conference. His letter to Mr. Drew mentioned the agenda and the need for assistance from Ontario officials. On August 10, Mr. Drew replied, in part:

"It seems necessary for me to remind you that this is a conference between governments, not merely a meeting at Ottawa to suit the convenience of the Dominion Government. We will prepare our material for this conference in the manner which we believe will best prepare us for that gathering. We will certainly co-operate in every way in furnishing such information as is required, as we have been doing in the past. . . . What I want to know is whether or not there is going to be a Dominion-Provincial conference. If it is the intention of the Dominion government to take part in such a conference, there is no reason why the date should not be set. I would like to have a definite statement from you as to what your intentions really are."

In this letter Mr. Drew said his provincial treasurer, Mr. Frost, had been informed by Mr. Skelton that no difficulty existed regarding figures or material to be used, but that an official was needed to prepare the agenda. This letter, like previous ones, made no comment on the suggestions contained in earlier letters from Mr. King on the agenda.

Mr. King wrote back immediately to say an Ontario official was required, as explained before, "to prepare basic material on a comparable basis" (not to prepare an agenda). He would make the definite statement asked for by Mr. Drew of parliament, which he did on August 14. Meanwhile, Mr. Drew wired Mr. King on August 14, repeating that the correspondence did not make clear the purpose for sending an official to Ottawa, but that Mr. Frost and Mr. Skelton had made arrangements to meet in Ottawa on August 15 and Mr. Frost would take two officials with him.

Make Germans Keep Hitler

PAUL SCHUBERT

In Saturday Review of Literature

Are we on the right track in our approach to the problem of post-war government in Germany?

Why not let them keep Hitler as Fuehrer?

I think that it would be the best solution of all. Let them go right on living with the man of their choice. There's no question that they chose him—they marched up to the ballot-box and gave him a landslide. They voted to keep him not for four years, or until he failed to get a parliamentary majority . . . they voted to keep him permanently.

Okay, then. Let 'em have him!

Can you think of any worse punishment for them?

The Germans were sold on Hitler as a hot shot. He was going to be the world-beating champion that made them monarchs of all creation. He had a new form of government that was going to last a thousand years. He was so smart that he didn't need advisers, didn't need a cabinet, didn't need a parliament. He, in person, was the Fuehrer. All everybody else in all Germany had to do was to say "Ja!"

But in the harsh test of history, Mr. Big has turned out to be nothing but a second-rater. His inspired strategy has lost one campaign after another—he has been beaten by run-of-the-mill Russian generals, British generals, American generals. His Goering, who was to produce a matchless Luftwaffe, has taken an aerial kicking-around at home and abroad since 1940. His Raeder and Doenitz, who were to dominate the seas with their U-boats, have seen true sea-power send their submarines home defeated. His West Wall has cracked as easily as his East Wall. His Italian ally didn't last as long as Romania or Hungary or Finland.

If that's the kind of leader the Germans want, let them keep him.

We know we can lick him. We have done it. If he tries to get smart again, we'll lick him again.

That's the kind of leader for the Germans. A proven failure. That's all they deserve.

But what do we propose to do?

We're talking "unconditional surrender". We're not only going to march into the streets of Berlin—as by all means we should. We are going to go further and bounce the Nazis out of office, without consulting the Germans. We're going to punish war criminals. We're going to single out everybody we think responsible for the ordeal of these past five years, and take it out of their blond hides.

We expect the Germans to be so frazzled, by that time, that they will join in this venture. The "voice of the people" will appear in the form of shady subterranean individuals who speak for the "new", "democratic" Germany and want to help us.

We will help them set up some sort of "stable" popular government in Germany—and if necessary we will have bayonets there on election day to see that the election is "fair".

All this is the surest possible way to turn Adolf Hitler into a German martyr, and to create around him a whole galaxy of little sub-martyrs. It is a certain way to surround National Socialism with a glamor that events have long since tarnished.

Having banished them, any government we impose, or help impose, upon the Germans, becomes a disagreeable foreign importation, tainted with alien qualities, and aromatic of defeat.

Personally, I think too much of democracy to want to hand it over so cheaply.

Democracy, as we know it, was dearly won. People suffered to set up this Republic. They endured revolution; a quarter of a century later they fought to protest their new creation; half a century later they bled through a bitter civil war . . . half a century later they mobilized all their resources to "make the world safe. . . ."

In 1918, we "helped" the Germans found a Republic.

They never respected their Republic. They never wanted it. They never respected democracy. As soon as possible, they began to sling mud at democracy, thinking to tear down the victors of 1918—not caring that in so doing they tore themselves down too.

Our British allies think more of democracy than that—

Like ourselves, they have bled for their institutions. No British freedom was easily won—nor has any been easily maintained.

Freedom is a dear thing, hard to acquire, hard to master, hard to keep.

The French have learned how hard it is to keep. They will bleed afresh in re-establishing it . . . but we shall see France free again.

Our Russian allies have joined the great quest for freedom. The Russian Revolution at the end of the last war was one of humanity's historic upheavals—we are still far from an accurate appraisal of that titanic occurrence, for the Russians are still in the throes of shaping their political destiny. They, too, may spill more blood, before they are done, in the perpetuation of their liberties.

Why should any of us have the slightest interest in handing the boon of liberty to the Germans who defile liberty?

Let the Germans keep Hitler, the second-rater, the strutting Fuehrer, the intuitive genius whose mistakes have brought Germany to black disaster.

Hitler is just the leader for them.

I would like to rub their noses in Hitler Government until they appreciate the seriousness of setting up a "Thousand Year Reich". You don't do the things the Germans have done, and then slide out by setting up a "Republic" or a "Soviet State" or whatever seems the most expedient way of softening the defeat your Hitler has brought you to.

I have seen Germans shout "Heil Hitler," eyes aglow, and strut down streets singing songs of conquest.

They gave themselves to Hitler, body and soul. The saps.

I would like them to spend a long time—years—on bended knees, before I admitted them to the priceless privileges of self-government. They aren't fit for self-government.

Hitler—he's their speed.

Personally, I wouldn't even take the trouble to disarm them. To do that is to make them think we are afraid of them.

They were defeated in 1918, and it didn't take. They rationalized themselves out of that defeat, and at the first opportunity rearmed and came out looking for trouble.

The Germans are being defeated in 1944.

If we play it right this time, the 1944 defeat will take.

To take, this defeat must be a state of mind, and not a physical conquest. Deprive the German of weapons, and he will want weapons.

Deprive him of a Fuehrer, and he will want another Fuehrer.

Let him keep his Hitler, tell him we don't want him to have a Republic or a Soviet State—and he will want a Republic . . . the same Republic that he will despise if we foist it on him.

Human nature is like that.

I'm for Hitler as permanent Fuehrer of the Germans. He's all they deserve. The Fuehrer that Failed—Heil Hitler!

District News in Brief

150 Farmers Attend Cereal Crops Day

LACOMBE—More than 150 farmers from all parts of the province attended the annual cereal crops field day at the Dominion Experimental Station here. They were taken on a tour of the experimental plots by F. H. Reed, superintendent of the farm, and heard several lectures on seed grains by G E. DeLong, J. G. C. Fraser and R Derrick.

Irvin Thomas, valedictorian of the class of Grade 12 students graduated from Lacombe high school this year, has won a $50 scholarship in Mount Royal college, Calgary. As he is now in the navy, he will take advantage of the scholarship after the war.

Glendon District Farmer Is Dead

GLENDON.—The death occurred on Aug. 9 of Gustave Lee of Franchere. He had just come in from the field where he had been working, and was watering and unhitching his team when his wife noticed the horses wandering about the yard, and went out to see what was the matter. She discovered her husband's body in the yard.

Born in Namsos, Norway, on Nov 9, 1877, Mr. Lee came to America in early childhood with his parents, settling in South Dakota. There he was married to Ella Johnson. Shortly afterward they came to Alberta, taking up residence in the Camrose and Killam districts. In 1934 they moved to Franchere, where they had lived ever since. The widow survives. Burial was held from the Glendon Norwegian Lutheran church on Aug. 12, with the Rev. Theodore Bergee, pastor of the church, officiating. Pallbearers were F. G. Aylesworth, David McEachran, Gustave and Eric Oberg, Alaf Sorenson and John Stensby, all of Franchere. Burial took place in the Glendon cemetery.

Old-Timer Leaves Lloydminster Area

LLOYDMINSTER—A resident of this district for 32 years, Miss Emma Stevenson has left to make her home in Regina. During her residence here she occupied many positions.

Coming here with her parents from the "old country" in 1912, she began working for the firm of H. B. Bell and sons in 1916. In 1917 she became bookkeeper for the firm and held that position until this week. She was associated with the Eastern Star lodge, being a past grand matron of the grand lodge of Saskatchewan. She was one of the first members of the Lloydminster chapter, joining in 1927. She was its secretary for several years. Friday of last week the lodge entertained in her honor.

Miss Stevenson was a Sunday school teacher at the St. John's church, and for almost quarter of a century had been organist. For the last several years she had been leader of the junior choir. The congregation and choir of St. Johns held a social in her honor.

Miss Audrey Huxley is leaving to commence training as a nurse at Edmonton. She had served the church as a member of the junior and senior choirs and as a Sunday school teacher. She was also honored at the church social.

A complete new staff of teachers has been obtained for the coming term at the school. C. E. Noble, B.A., principal, C. M. Palmer, B.Sc., as vice-principal and Isabelle Palmer B.A., graduate of the University of Toronto and Elva Tufts of Regina make up the staff.

Millet Sea Cadets Return From Camp

Olive Strip, late of Bombay, India, has taken up residence here. She has been a teacher in a girls school in India, and was able to leave early this summer with a group of teachers and missionaries who were being evacuated. She finds the peace and hospitality of Western Canada restful after a journey that took weeks.

Dr. W. J. Simpson has gone to Lacombe to attend the Old Timers' gathering where he will have an opportunity to meet and talk to old friends. He was one of the earliest doctors in that district.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rosesky and family of Provost have moved to this district.

Gleaned From Rural News

WILDWOOD. — The farmers in this district are having a difficult time getting in the hay this year owing to so much rain. Lumber men also are having difficulty moving their lumber as the roads are so soft.

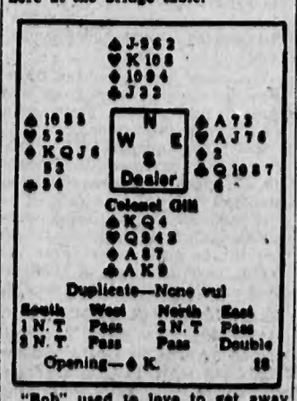

ENDIANG.—Mrs. A. J. S. Webber returned Tuesday from Rowley where she has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hamilton. She returned in time to celebrate the 71st birthday anniversary of her husband who was a veteran of the Boer War. Elsie Walker has returned from Calgary where she has been visiting her aunt. Mrs. A. McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E McKENNEY

Many bridge players of the country will be pleased to know that Col. Robert J. Gill of Baltimore, a past president of the American Contract Bridge League and member of MacArthur's staff during the last war, is in the midst of things over in England. His winning smile and personality should prove a winner over there, as they did here at the bridge table.

"Bob" used to love to get away with a good hand. Here is one he played in one of his last tournaments before going back into the service. The colonel let the king of diamonds hold the first trick, but won the second with the ace. He cashed the king and queen of spades, the third spade going to East's ace. East returning a club, and the colonel, remembering East's double, allowed it to ride to the jack. The good spade was cashed, and the eight of hearts led. The colonel reasoned that East must have both missing heart honors in order to double, and he let it ride. He then played the king of hearts, establishing his heart queen for the ninth trick.

Freer Trading Among Nations Declared Need

WINNIPEG, Aug. 18—(CP)—Consistent efforts toward freer domestic and international trade will facilitate enlargement of outlets for potentially large agricultural surpluses in the post-war era, J. S. Davis, director of the food research institute, Stanford University, said last night.

In an address to the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association, Mr. Davis said Canada, the United States and rest of the world face the alternatives of far-reaching government controls, domestic or international, or practical progress toward freer trade, within and among nations.

"For my own part, I have little fear that we shall deliberately choose to replace private enterprise by far-reaching controls."

DANGER OF "DRIFTING"

The danger is that we may "unwittingly" drift into government controls that breed more controls, he said.

The best way to insure price collapse is to boost prices to abnormal heights and then try to hold them there, he said. This was being done in the U.S. under congressional mandates enacted into law and there was danger of Canada following suit.

"In my judgment, we have been on the wrong track in one vital respect. We have focused our attention on prices of farm products and tried to raise farm prices to a level politically declared fair, damning the economic consequences.

DEMAND HIGH PRICES

"We (in the U.S.) have insisted on high and still higher farm prices, regardless of the urgent need for holding inflation in check.

"My views are widely shared by American agricultural economists, though by no means all who hold them would state them with equal bluntness."

Special Railroad Rate Is Granted Veterans in U.S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Ex-servicemen and women will be granted a special railroad rate of 1¼ cents a mile from the point of their release to destinations in the United States and Canada, effective Sept. 1, John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, announced this yesterday "as the railroads' contribution to the reintroduction of service people to civilian life."

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—A defence department spokesman said last night that discharged service personnel in Canada received transportation to the place of their enlistment or to communities not further away than the place of enlistment, and that return transportation was provided those on disembarkation leave.

Chinese Commence Fresh Operations In Central China

CHUNGKING, Aug. 18—(AP)—The Chinese army has begun fresh operations north and south of the Yangtze river in the vicinity of Tungting Lake in Central China, the high command announced yesterday.

Apparently these new movements were designed to prevent the Japanese from consolidating their holdings in Hunan province and prevent them from using the Canton-Hankow railroad. At the same time Chinese forces continued another new push toward Ichang, Hupeh province.

The high command reported unusually heavy fighting in the Japanese "out ring" of defence about captured Hengyang. American aircraft were pressing incessant attacks which already had blunted the enemy's striking power in the Yengyang area.

500 U.S. Bombers Plaster Ploesti

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

LONDON, Aug. 18—A fleet of some 500 American heavy bombers based in Italy attacked the Ploesti oil refineries in Romania and the Nis airdrome in Yugoslavia Thursday, while Allied medium and light bombers smashed 10 vital bridges used by the battered German Seventh Army to retreat eastward cross the Risle river from the Normandy front.

Ploesti was attacked through smoke screens which hid the results, but Fortresses over Nis, rail and air communication centre 125 miles southeast of Belgrade, reported direct hits on the airdrome and railway yards.

The 10 bridges over which retreating German columns struggled eastward toward the Seine were bombed through a solid cold ceiling. Simultaneously, forces of wide ranging fighters and fighter-bombers strafed and bombed German communication lines over a vast area fro mRouen through Brussels to Reins and Paris, and back to Rouen.

(Admitting the raid on Ploesti, the Nazi transcontinental news agency said in a broadcast today that Allied bombers also had raided Bucharest.)

Marshal Kietel Now in Finland

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 18—Reports circulating here said Thursday Field Marshal Wilhelm Kietel, supreme commander of all German armed forces, is now in Finland for an important conference with Baron Marshal Carl Gusav Mannerheim, new president of Finland.

The nature of the conference was not revealed, but it was reported that a number of high-ranking German and Finnish army officers participated in the discussions.

(Mannerhiem assumed the presidency of Finland less than two weeks ago, replacing Rysto Ryti, for the reported purpose of obtaining an armistice from Russia and withdrawing his country from the war.)

Shells Killed 7,500 Civilians in Caen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A congressman back from the Normandy front reported yesterday Allied shelling of German-occupied Caen killed 7,500 French civilians in that cathedral city of 60,000 population. The French had been warned to vacate the coastal area, but Representative Hugh D. Scott, Philadelphia, related that after one Allied barrage took 2,500 lives, civilians who had fled to the countryside returned and were caught in another, which killed 5,000 more.

$50,000 Blaze

WINNIPEG, Aug. 18—(CP)—Firemen from nine fire stations last night battled for nearly an hour before bringing under control a fire which raged through the McColl-Frontenac Oil Company premises in central Winnipeg. Damage was unofficially estimated at $50,000.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean
SPORTS EDITOR

AS A result of their 5-1 win over U.S. Signals on Thursday, Wayne Adams' Yanks certainly have the rail position in the race for the bye in the coming playoffs in the senior ball loop. With only two left to play Dodgers at the moment are one and a half games in arrears and the lead the Yanks hold must look plenty big to "Baga" Bagley.

In addition the U.S. Army club has a game in hand with three scheduled fixtures remaining as compared to two for Dodgers. Signals, who meet Dodgers tonight, have just a half-game margin over Arrows for the third spot in the playoff picture, but have three remaining as against two for Arrows. The Arrows have to play Yanks twice, while Signals are slated to clash twice with Dodgers and once with Yanks.

Right now the Yanks are playing heads-up ball and will be hard for any team to knock over—a fact the boys from Fairbanks probably will discover during this coming weekend. Forrest Hunter just wasn't in a liberal mood last night and his three-hitter really merited a shutout.

Columbus Burchfield picked up one stolen base and is again tied with Ab Superstein of Dodgers with 13. Jim Junker, of Signals, whose injured ankle is coming along nicely these days is at the top of the larceny list with 14. Manuel Dorsky now has 17 runs batted-in.

Helmuth Brown, the most bepitched man in the circuit, has worked in 13 games for a total of 82 2-3 innings. There was no lack of business in the shortstop area last night. Both John Galvin and Bert Culver had seven chances without a slip. Culver made a sweet catch off Galvin's bat behind third base in the fifth chapter.

EQUALLED DOMINION MARK

EDITH SKITCH, one of the finest young athletes ever developed in this city, soon may join two other Edmonton girls as a holder of Dominion record. In the recent provincial inter-scholastic meet held here, Edith negotiated the 80 metres (intermediate) hurdles in 13 seconds, which equals the time for that event made by Betty Taylor of Hamilton in 1931.

Formal application for the record, accompanied by the necessary documents is being made on behalf of Miss Edith. Gertrude Hagen (int. 100 metres—12 1/5 secs.) and June Causgrove (discus and softball throw) are the other two members of the Edmonton Girls Athletic Club who hold Dominion records.

Sgt. John Bishop, a P.T. instructor stationed at No. 3 "M" Depot for a considerable time, has been posted to No. 2 A.G.T.S. at Calgary. In addition to being a swell fellow, John, whose home is in Vancouver is one of western Canada's finest swimmers.

No. 4 I.T.S., H.M.C.S. Nonsuch and One Civilian Grid Team in Sight

Junior Football League Likely to Operate

Three-Club Circuit Is Proposed

PROSPECTS that a three-club junior football league will operate in Edmonton this season appear exceedingly bright, following a preliminary meeting held at the Barn on Thursday night. HMCS Nonsuch, No. 4 ITS and one civilian club are expected to comprise the circuit.

A general meeting has been called for next Tuesday and will be held at the Barn commencing at 8:30 p.m. Election of officers for the league is included on the agenda. The meeting will be open to the public and representatives from the above three teams will attend.

The Canadian, Edmonton, Maple Leaf and South Side Athletic Clubs are all co-operating in fielding the civilian team and an invitation to attend practices is extended to all boys under 21 years of age, as at Sept. 1 next.

First workout for the combined team has been called for next Monday and will be held at Clarke Stadium starting at 7 p.m. Coaches will be on hand to assist.

All boys in the city desirous of trying out for a place on the team are welcome to attend Monday's and subsequent practices. The following are especially invited to turn out: Doug Stevenson, Bill Ingram, Ab Superstein, Terry Cavanagh, Ronnie Lane, Baker, Brian Dunsworth, Jack Williams, Graham Cragg and "Jiggs" Brown.

Art Carlson, president of the Edmonton Junior Rugby League was chairman of last night's meeting. Others present included:

Nine Innings In 91 Minutes

Hunter Pitches Army Club To 5-1 Win Over Signals

FORREST HUNTER tossed a three-hitter at Renfrew Park on Thursday night and Yanks improved their position atop the Senior Baseball League standings by defeating U.S. Signals 5-1, thus increasing their lead over the Dodgers to a game and a half. The full nine innings took only 91 minutes to play a record for the year.

Hunter pitched to exactly 37 Signallers and he set them down in order six times. He struck out four and gave no bases on balls. Two of the three hits he yielded came in the sixth and these along with an error gave the losers an unearned run.

Helmuth Brown, work-horse for Signals appeared on the mound and the 13th time this season. He gave up nine hits and they included two clusters of three and a pair, which Yanks made pay off in runs each time.

Wayne Adams' nine took a two-run lead in the third frame. Columbus Burchfield opened with a single to left and Manuel Dorsky sacrificed. Roush went out, Nelson to Sawyer, but Galvin dropped the ball safely into centre and Burchfield came in. Galvin took second when Schisser allowed the ball to go through and scored on Meyers' hit.

Schumacher's single to centre, Crumly's sacrifice and successive hits by Hunter and Burchfield, along with Dorsky's flyout to centre, gave Yanks two more markers in the fourth session.

The league leaders added their fifth run in the seventh. Burchfield hit for the third time and Dorsky again sacrificed. Roush flied out to Schisser, but Galvin doubled the Yankthird-sacker home.

Signallers secured their lone counter in the sixth. With two away Bert Culver singled into left field and Henry Dombrowski hit into centre and when Valenti let the ball get away, Culver scored.

Pats Will Make Trip to Calgary To End Series

Edmonton's Army and Navy Pats journey to Calgary this week end with Manager Clare Hollingsworth to try and collect the coveted Alberta senior girls' Fastball Championship. The series is the best-of-three type and as the Pats have already won one contest here, they need only one more to make certain of the title.

Calgary(without suitable fastball grounds, is reported to be planning to play their games with the Pats on grass. The local girls, accustomed to playing on one of the Dominion's finest fastball diamonds, will not take kindly to this make-shift arrangement, but have had one work-out this week on the grass to get used to the new conditions. The proposed Saturday night game at Calgary had to be cancelled. This makes a double-header on Sunday the order of the day. However, the Pats are taking along three pitchers and two catchers who should be able to handle the chores.

First Game Saturday

Ladd Field All-Stars Here To Play Series With Yanks

HERE for their return series with Yanks, the Ladd Field all-stars from Fairbanks, Alaska, worked out at Renfrew Park this morning in preparation for the opener on Saturday night. Members of the team were guests at Thursday's league fixture between Yanks and Signals.

Saturday's game will commence at 6:45 p.m. and for Sunday a doubleheader is slated for Renfrew. The regular senior league affair between Dodgers and Signals will start at 1:30 p.m. and Yanks versus Ladd Field will be the attraction for the second half of the double bill.

These two teams will play the third game of their series at Renfrew on Monday night.

Manager of the Fairbanks team, T-4 Joseph Skroch, a pitcher himself, stated last night that choice for the mound assignment for Saturday night's game lies between Sgt. John J. Treskovich, 1-Sgt. O. R. Brooks and T-4 Neal E. Webster. The latter, incidentally, is the property of the Columbus Red Birds, of the American Association.

Sgt. Louis T. Battles, first-baseman is captain of the All-Star nine.

Nineteen players made the trip, their names, ranks and positions being as follows:

Sgt. Louis J. Battles, first base; Pvt. Earl S. Clark, shortstop; T-5 William M. Sheppard, centre field; Pfc. John W. Hunt, second base; Sgt. John J. Treskovich, pitcher; T-5 Eugene H. Kern, catcher, right field; Sgt. Abraham A. Bamburger, catcher, right field; Pfc. Edward N. Guerin, pitcher; Cpl. John George Cernac, third base; S-Sgt. Evan M. Vande Walle, left field; Sgt. American Fastball Playoff

Enlisted Men Take Series From Dawson Creek Squad

RECEIVING great pitching from their new chucker, August Wullenweber, who posted two rousing efforts, a one-hitter and a four hit performance, the Edmonton U.S. Enlisted Men shut out Dawson Creek twice Thursday, 2-0 and 1-0, to advance to the finals of the American fastball tournament being held at Kingsway Park.

The local club now mets Prince Rupert in a best of three series, commencing at 2.30 this afternoon and continuing at 6.30 tonight. If the play-off goes three games the third will be held Saturday afternoon at 2.30, also at Kingsway.

In the game that tied the series against Dawson Creek the Enlisted Men came up with a pair of runs in the first inning for their margin of victory. Wullenweber hooked up with Earl Weber for a real pitching duel, but received better support from his team-mates to win. Weber only allowed three safeties to the winning chucker's four.

Following is the box score of the first game:

WULLENWEBER ONLY ALLOWS ONE SINGLE

Wullenweber went to the mound for the second time in one day in the night game Thursday and only allowed one single as the Edmonton club clinched the series. Weber also chucked this game for the Dawson Creek squad and just let up three hits, including doubles by Fogarty and Batliner.

A run in the fourth inning on a double and an error gave the locals their small edge over the visitors.

Wullenweber had by far his best game of the series in this contest and fanned eight of the opposing batters, including a pinch hitter in the last inning, and he never passed a single batsman. He only allowed two players to reach first.

Following is the box score of the second game:

Sports . . . . Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(AP)—Iced "T" formations—or why wait until new year's day? . . . the first football "Bowl" game of 1944 was played in Panama Aug. 1; another is scheduled in China sometime in November with Col. Bob Neyland, former Tennessee tutor, and Lt.-Col. Fred Thomsen of Arkansas as opposing coaches. . . The Mango bowl game in Panama was a touch-tackle game between eight-man teams in which the Pacific coast champions, the Coat Artillery "Meritadors", licked the Panama Mobile Force "Jungle Troopers" 26-6 as big John Creevey from Notre Dame connected with 19 of 39 long passes. . . . So far only the coaches have been chosen for the "Rice Bowl" game in China.

Nomination seconded:

Even before the season starts, Sgt. John Derr, sports editor of the "C. B. I. Roundup" nominates Thomsen, two of whose players have won the congressional medal of honor, as coach of the year.

"This guy is doing great work for the G.I.'s and officers in China," Derr writes, "and he's responsible for keeping hundreds of good Americans from going mentally nuts and physically stale out at the end of the line." . . . As special service officer for the 14th air force Thomsen has organized numerous leagues in volley ball, favorite indoor sport during the rainy season, softball, basketball, the Chinese national sport. He runs track meets, tennis, boxing . . . "we try to play games that our allies play", he explains, "so we'll have some local competition. And in basketball we can't let up against the Chinese at all."

Today's guest star:

Al Buck, New York Post: "Gov. Bricker's departure from Columbus after the fall elections will not be as keenly felt as the absence of Paul Brown. Any governor will do, but where is Ohio State university going to get a suitable replacement for its football coach?"

Cleaning the cuff:

Purse distribution at the Roosevelt Fareway this year is sure to pass the $300,000 mark. . . . Officers at the Valley Forge General hospital have been experimenting with a direction-finder that will enable blind veterans to bowl merely by listening to the beam. . . . When Joe Gordon, ex-Yankee, now playing army ball in Hawaii, couldn't shake off a batting slump, he tried swinging from the left side and banged out two triples, a double and a single in five times at bat.

Aircraft Repair Tennis Tourney Starts Tonight

The Aircraft Repair Tennis Club's tournament will swing into action this evening at the Victoria high school courts.

Over 25 employees are entered in the various competitions which include: girls' singles and doubles, men's singles and doubles, and also mixed doubles. The men's singles and girls' doubles will be played Friday night with the remainder of the draws to be run-off on Tuesday and Friday of the following week.

Harold Newman is in charge of arrangements.

Draw for Friday, August 18th:

Men's Singles—Harold Newman vs. Jim Moore; Crad Davies vs. Doug Bradbury; Bud d'Easum vs. Norman Deane; Bert Dennis received a bye.

Girls' Doubles—D. Pfitzner and F. Patterson vs. I. Bowden and K. McCormack; M. Chettleborough and J. Walsh vs. E. Hancock and M. Mullen; M. Walsh and N. Hancock vs. B. Ambrose and I. Fletcher; C. Shervey and P. Brown vs. P. McKenna and G. Rees; S. Burton and E. Ferron vs. G. Handlonand A. Street; Kay Dunne and G. Brown received a bye.

Red Dutton Still Undecided

Minor Rule Changes Made At NHL—CAHA Meeting

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—(CP)—The National League rules committee and officials of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association met Thursday and laid the groundwork for their fifth season of wartime hockey—but two of the chief questions involving the N.H.L.'s immediate future remained unanswered.

One of the questions is whether Mervyn (Red) Dutton, managing director of the league since the death of President Frank Calder in February, 1942, will accept the league presidency to which he was elected at the league's annual meeting last spring.

The other is whether the Canadian government has given the "green light" for professional hockey again this season.

The Dutton question will be answered early next week. Dutton said he will make an announcement in Montreal then as to his plans.

It was learned that the government's attitude on professional hockey will be made known when the N.H.L. governors meet in Montreal next month, possibly about Sept. 8.

PLAN JOINT RULE BOOK

The changes in rules were accepted by both the CAHA and the NHL and CAHA President Frank Sargent said that plans were made for publication this year by both bodies of a joint rule book. This plan still awaits approval by the NHL governors at their September meeting.

The rule changes were described as minor. Chief among them is one which provides that a team must be in possession of the puck when carrying it across the centre-ice red line which was established last season. When the puck is shot across this red line it will be treated as "icing" the puck, with a face off in the offending team's end of the rink.

OTHER CHANGES

Other changes include:

1. The visiting club may be required at any time to provide the referee with a starting lineup. It was explained that this rule is designed to prevent coaches and managers from juggling lineups and delaying the game;

2. A minor penalty is provided for delaying the game;

3. Players who break their sticks must take the broken piece of stick remaining in their hands to the players' bench immediately or suffer a minor penalty;

4. Club officials guilty of misconduct will not be permitted to remain on the bench;

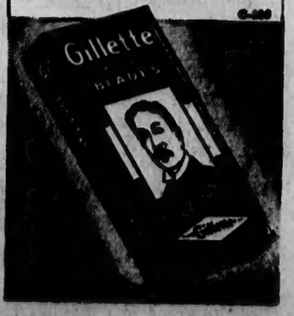

A minor penalty shot may be called against a goaltender, who piles snow or other obstacles around the net which, in the opinion of the referee, will hinder the puck from entering the net.

NEWARK, N.J., Aug. 18.—Boxing promoters of the nation are deluging the Trenton doorstep of Larry Lane with offers for bouts; but the brown skinned heavyweight who caused a recent ring death "wishes to Gawd that fist fightin' never was invented."

Lane, religious and superstitious—with the drums of old Africa still pulsing in his blood—is forced at last to take seriously the sport with which he toyed for eight long years.

The death of Lem Franklin brought this about.

Lem Franklin, the Chicago Negro heavyweight who once was considered a potential challenger for Joe Louis, died after being knocked out by Lane in Newark's Meadow Brook Bowl, July 24. Until that night no one heard much about Larry Lane—a run of the mine heavyweight who was as good as he wanted to be.

RARELY IN CONDITION

BUT the trouble with Lane was that his laziness prevented him from wanting to be anything. Gifted with every asset that the lord ever bestowed upon any leather tossers, Lane puttered along in mediocrity. He had the body—191 pounds of dynamite on a five foot 11 inch chassis. He had the sloping shoulders of the deadly hitter. His alert mind and agile body enabled him to become a "cutie" in ringcraft. The rare gift of being able to smash a knockout punch from the short range of eight inches raised him above the crowd in cauliflower canyon. And he had the experience of more than 100 bouts as he fought up from welterweight to heavyweight during the past eight years.

But, rarely was he in condition for any fight. He knew he could knockout a man with one punch, if he hit him squarely—so why should he train? And he was too lazy to train. He knocked out chaps like Claudio Villa, Sgt. Joe Muscato, Wallace Cross, Nat Mitchell, Willie Thomas, Dee Amos and Bob Harris. But too often, when he didn't knock out an opponent in three or four rounds, he ran out of gas and lost the decision. He was being beaten by Franklin when he suddenly landed that fatal blow in the ninth round and became the first Negro heavyweight ever to cause a prominent ring death.

James Larue Lane, who was born at Dillon, some 26 years ago, came from Trenton to Newark Wednesday night to discuss with manager Willie Gilzenberg the possibilities of his retiring from the ring. Lane—of the small mustachio, panama hat and brown slacks—has lived in Trenton since the age of three. He is married and has a seven-year-old daughter. He is in 4-F because of a punctured ear drum, and is employed as a defence worker in a Trenton rubber plant. But he can't sleep.

KEEPS THINKING OF LEM

HE can't sleep, because he keeps "takin' Lem Franklin out with one punch". Slumber—the supposed balm of woe—finds him fighting Franklin in ghoul haunted settings that only the mind of an uneducated Negro could conjecture—backdrops that the fantastics would have enjoyed"—Edgar Allen Poe, Ambrose Bierce, Geroud De Nerval and Oscar Wilde.

Manager Gilzenberg says '"If Larry can't sleep, it's the first time in his life. He used to sleep on his feet. Maybe this unfortunate accident has woke him up. I hope so, because his wife and kid, and his father need money. If he has woke up, he'll become heavyweight champion—like Jess Willard and Maxie Baer, who also caused deaths from knockouts. Because he's got everything, except the urge.

He fought like a new man at Chicago on Aug. 7, when he knocked out Georgie Parks in the second round—two weeks after the Franklin kayo. He's fighting Irish Johnny Flynn on Aug. 31 at the opening of the new Arena Athletic Club in Baltimore. And Jack Kearns has practically completed a match with Joe Baksi for Chicago in October. I'll bet $10,000 he can lick Baksi—other civilian heavyweight in the world today."

INOCULATION IMPROVES

BATHURST, Gambia. — (CP) — Yellow fever inoculations now confer more enduring protection than formerly—four years instead of two—and the inoculation against yellow fever ordinance has been amended accordingly.

MacKay Sisters Garneau Tennis Doubles Champs

Norma and Lola MacKay won the ladies' doubles title of Garneau Tennis Club when they defeated Sheila Toshach and Peggy Molloy in straight sets 7-5, 6-3 on Thursday evening in the first final of the current tournament.

Harry Kinloch secured his bracket in the final round of the men's singles by eliminating E. Hall 6-1, 6-0, 6-0. The Les McManus versus Dr. King semi-final was halted in the fifth set by darkness, with McManus leading 7-5, 6-0, 7-9, 5-4.

McManus had King down 5-3 at one time in the last set, but his opponent rallied to take the next game. The match will be completed this evening.

The MacKay sisters played sound tennis throughout their final against Sheila Toshach and Peggy Molloy. There were several prolonged rallies, especially in the first set which went 12 games.

Isabel Hooper, city singles champion advanced to the final in the ladies' open by defeating Doris Walton 6-0, 6-0. Norma MacKay is the other finalist.

THURSDAY'S RESULTS:

M.O.S.—Kinloch def. E. Hall 6-1, 6-0, 6-0 (semi-final); L. McManus vs. Dr. King 7-5, 6-0, 7-9, 5-4. (Match to be completed tonight; also a semi-final).

L.O.S.—Lsabel Hooper def. Doris Walton 6-0, 6-0 (semi-final.

Mixed O.D.—Hirtle-Tanney def. L. Calhoun-B. Reynolds 6-1, 6-1.

Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Skinner Enters Finals of Ladies' Golf

By DON KILLIPS

Two Mayfair golfers, Mrs. K. Saunders and Mrs. G. Skinner became the finalists in the city ladies' championship golf tournament being played at the Prince Rupert course, on Thursday when they won in the semi-finals. The two now meet this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the final battle.

Mrs. Saunder won from Mrs. O. Anderson, also of Mayfair on the 18th hole while Mrs. Skinner found the going a slight bit easier in defeating Mrs. Robinson of Municipal on the 16th.

In the bronze championship, Miss M. Templeman of Municipal and Mrs. G. Archibald of Highlands, were successful in reaching the final and will battle it out this afternoon for the secondary title.

Miss Templeman won from Mrs. Moos on the 16th while Mrs. Archibald's triumph came on the last green. The Highland's golfer beat Mrs. C. A. Scharf.

The other two events, the silver and bronze consolations, also entered the final stage yesterday, and will be played today. Mrs. D. Graves and Mrs. F. Wolfe became the silver consolation finalists and Mrs. F. Fricker and Mrs. B. Ferguson won in the semi-finals of the bronze consolation.

The ladies' two-ball game, also played on Thursday was won by Mrs. A. Rocque and Mrs. Hopps. Playing over the Prince Rupert course that is in great condition, the pair edged out Mrs. A. Halliday and Mrs. H. McPherson, who captured the runner-up prize.

Following are Thursday's results:

SILVER CHAMPIONSHIP

Semi-finals—Mrs. Saunders beat Mrs. Anderson, 1 up; Mrs. Skinner beat Mrs. E. Robinson on 16.

SILVER CONSOLATION

Pirates Win 11th Straight—Longest Streak of Season

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Sweeping both ends of a doubleheader, Pittsburgh Pirates ran their victory streak to 11 straight—the longest in the National League this season—In defeating Philadelphia 7-6 and 6-5 here yesterday.

Late-inning rallies provided the margin of triumph in both games as the Bucs tightened their grip on second place.

In the curtain-raiser, Bob Elliott's eighth-inning triple scored Jack Barrett who had previously walked for the deciding run.

Pete Coscarart drove in Nick Strincevich in the 10th inning to win the second game, after the Pirates had whittled down an early five-run advantage held by the Phils.

Philadelphia	000 002 400—6	11	1
Pittsburgh	002 010 11x—7	13	0

Lee, Karl (7) and Shea, Peacock (8); Ostermueller, Strincevich (7), Rescigno (8) and Lopez.

Second game:

Philadelphia	030 000 000 0—5	13	2
Pittsburgh	021 001 010 1—6	10	0

Schanz, Barrett (3) and Peacock; Butcher, Cuccurullo (2), Strincevich (9) and Camelli, Lopez (9).

TOBIN GAINS 13TH VICTORY

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Jim Tobin was combed for 14 hits Thursday but gained his 13th victory as Boston Braves kayoed two Chicago Cubs' pitchers for a 7-5 triumph that evened the National League series at a game apiece.

The Braves, making 15 hits, disposed of Bob Chipman in the second inning and Eddie Hanyzewski in the fifth, continuing against Bill Fleming in that frame until they had hung up five runs.

Boston	011 050 000—7	15	2
Chicago	200 100 110—5	14	3

Tobin, Hutchinson (9) and Masi; Chipman, Hanyzewski (2), Fleming (5), Derringer (8) and Holm, Kreitner (9).

CARDS SHUT OUT GIANTS AGAIN

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Max Lanier won his 16th victory of the National League season last night as St. Louis Cardinals for the second night in a row shut out New York Giants 7-0. Lanier allowed only five hits.

The Cards backed up Lanier's pitching with able fielding, turning in three double plays.

New York	000 000 000—0	5	0
St. Louis	110 030 20x—7	13	0

Pyle, Adams (6) and Mancuso; Lanier and W. Cooper.

American League

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—(AP)—St. Louis Browns resumed their march toward the American League pennant by bunching their hits for a 10-5 victory over Philadelphia Athletics yesterday.

The 15 hits the Browns made off Jes Flores, Carl Schieb and Woody Wheaton included Vernon Stephens' 15th home run of the year. The wallop touched off a four-run assault that derricked Scheib in the seventh inning.

Nelson Potter, a former Mackman, coasted to his 12th victory of the year, and his first over the Athletics, although he needed help from George Caster in the ninth.

St. Louis	100 220 401—10	15	1
Philadelphia	000 011 003— 5	12	1

Potter, Caster (9) and Mancuso; Flores, Scheib (4), Wheaton (7) and Hayes, Garbark.

RAIN HALTS BATTLE

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—Rain Thursday forced a temporary halt in the Red Sox-Detroit battle for second place in the American League. The game was called with the score 3-3 in the fifth inning with one out.

The teams, separated by only a half game, will play a doubleheader today.

Detroit	100 02—3	5	0
Boston	021 00—3	8	1

(Called end of fifth, rain.)

Trout and Swift; Woods, Barrett (5) and Wagner.

WHITE SOX WIN IN NINTH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Hal Trosky's long fly brought Guy Curtright in from third in the ninth inning and gave Chicago a 1-0 American League victory over Washington last night.

It was an unearned run. Roy Schalk was safe on Eddie Yost's error. Curtright forced Schalk attempting to sacrifice. Ralph Hodgin doubled to right, Curtright stopping at third. Then came Trosky's fly.

Chicago	000 000 001—1	6	0
Washington	000 000 000—0	5	1

Dietrich and Tresh; Haefner and Guerra.

FOURTH IN ROW FOR YANKEES

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—New York Yankees gained their fourth straight victory Thursday, bumping five Cleveland chuckers for 17 hits and an easy 10-3 American League triumph over the Indians.

Johnny Lindell was the Yankee bellweather, lacing out five hits, including four doubles, which tied a major league record. The last player to hit four doubles in a game was Billy Werber with Cincinnati Reds in 1940. Lindell also drove in two runs to increase his total to 66.

Walter Dubiel went all the way for his eighth victory. He gave up 10 blows including Pat Seerey's 12th homer of the season.

Cleveland	100 101 000— 3	10	0
New York	212 010 12x—10	17	1

Bagby, Calvert (4), Heving (6), Post (7), Klieman (8) and Rosar, Susce (4), Boudreau (6); Dubiel and Hemsley.

Interest Is High Tennis Tourney

A great deal of enthusiasm was expressed at last night's meeting of the committee of the Edmonton and district tennis tournament which commences on Saturday, August 26. Entries for this event, which promises to be a big one, close Thursday, August 24th.

Entries should be forwarded to George Docherty, tournament secretary, care of the Glenora Tennis club. The tournament is being held at the Glenora courts.

A large and strong entry is expected by the committee. Many American tennis players now in the city are planning to take part in the tourney, which will add a great deal of interest for the local stars.

All prospective entrants are urged to contact their club representatives for list of events and fees.

City Junior Golf Tourney Starts Sunday Morning

The city junior golf championship tournament is being played this Sunday at Municipal golf links commencing at 9:00 o'clock. There are a total of 29 entries already received and others are expected at the post. They will be received at the post until 9:30 Sunday morning.

NATIVE WAR EFFORT

SUVA, Fiji.—(CP)—Fijian farmers supplied fresh fruit and vegetables to a value of $398,700 to the military forces during 1943. The natives have been exempted from communal duties in order to devote themselves to this task.

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

The Allied invasion of southern France is progressing nicely. At the eastern bridgeheads more opposition was met with than dispatches indicated. The enemy possibly is developing an attack from the direction of Nice. The enemy is nervous about the safety of the right flank of his forces in northern Italy. Little dependable news is forthcoming yet about the number and extent of the Allied bridgeheads. Three main bridgeheads may have been established. Several others are in the making. Soon they may be merged into a continuous bridgehead extending along the Mediterranean coast for 100 miles.

Reserve Army Units Prepare To Return Here

After official inspection of all units by Col. E. R. Knight, VD, officer commanding the 41st (Res.) Brigade Group, who will be accompanied by Lt. Col. J. N. Edgar, MC, brigade major, on Saturday morning, on the football field at Sarcee camp, Reserve Army units attending the second and final reserve army camp of 1944, will prepare to return to their individual headquarters in various parts of the province. The outgoing move will start early Sunday morning.

During the last two days all units have been out on bivouac, returning to camp late Thursday evening.

The 41st (Res.) Field Regiment, RCA, continued shooting with live ammunition, using 18 pounders. The seven batteries of the regiment enjoyed the most successful camp in their history, with four days of range shooting under ideal weather conditions and with an ample supply of ammunition.

IN BIVOUAC

The 2nd (R) Bn., Calgary Highlanders, also out on bivouac the last two days, carried on infantry training and battle practices under active service conditions. The various tactical schemes were put on under platoon arrangements.

All units in the camp will take part in a tabloid sports meet to be held on the football field at Sarcee on Friday afternoon starting at 2 o'clock. After the meet Col. Knight will present prizes to the teams finishing first, second and third.

Units leaving camp on Sunday include: 41st (Res.) Field Regiment, RCA, which is composed of the 20th Battery, Lethbridge, 23rd, Calgary, 61st, Edmonton, 22nd, Gleichen, 78th, Red Deer, 91st, Calgary, and 93rd, Macleod; the 2nd (Res.) Bn., Calgary Highlanders; the 1st Armored Divisional Workshop, RCOC, Edmonton; "E" Troop Cavalry Signals, Edmonton; 4th Casualty Clearing Station, RCA MC, Edmonton, and 13th Field Hygiene Section, Edmonton.

French Place In New Europe Lecture Topic

A lecture on "France and the New Europe" was delivered Thursday evening in Convocation Hall, University of Alberta, by Dr. Glen Shortliffe, a visitor from Queen's University, Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Shortliffe said the speedy collapse of France in 1940 was a surprise not merely to Frenchmen and the Allied world, but to Germany as well. Whatever the details of the cause, internal political dissention, with an evolutionary history of more than a century behind it, was undoubtedly the main factor.

The mass of the populace wanted economic security after the last war: they did not get it. There was little cohesion in the national outlook. France did not enter the new war in a spirit of anti-Fascist crusade, which would have provided unity of spirit and outlook, but with no more stimulating objective than to keep from the doors a former foe. It was an old theme and held no inspiration.

Further, internal economic affairs were such that she entered the conflict without even a semblance of the equipment that could have successfully countered the overwhelming war material at the disposal of her foe.

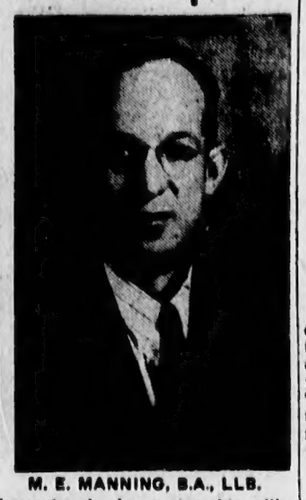

FUTURE PROSPECTS

In dealing with the prospects of the future, the speaker pointed out that the two most vital factors were possible changes within Europe after the war and the influence of the United States. He also raised points of internal economy, such as the disposal of vast properties that would be alienated from owners for their recent adherence to the Nazi regime. Are they to become the property of the state or what will be their fate? Where are the tools coming from to rehabilitatue the heavy industry of France? In this connection, involving Europe, not merely France, surely the United States will have to play a dominating role, the speaker said.

Form New Law Partnership

W. E. SIMPSON, K.C.

M. E. MANNING, B.A., LLB.

M. E. Manning, Calgary barrister, has entered a law partnership with W. E. Simpson, K.C. The partnership of Simpson and Manning succeeds that of Simpson and Macleod, with offices in the Bank of Montreal building, C. M. Macleod, K.C., having retired from the firm upon his appointment as official guardian. Mr. Manning is a graduate of the University of Alberta, entering from Delburne in 1926. Taking a degree in arts he was graduated with first-class honors in history in 1930, took law the following year, and was a junior lecturer in mathematics. Next year while president of the Students' Union, he took his bachelor's degree in law. Winning the Elizabeth Imrie memorial scholarship, he went to Europe in 1932 to attend the Geneva school of international politics. For nine years he practiced law in Calgary, the last three of which he was a member of the firm of Scott, Milvain and Manning. He was Conservative candidate for Bow River constituency in the Federal election of 1940. In 1942 he was chairman of the arbitration board which handled a dispute involving coal operators and miners in the Crow's Nest Pass.

Canada Stands At Crossroads Visitor States

"If Canada is to maintain its democratic way of life its citizens must become more interested in living than in making a living," P. D. McArthur, Howick, Que., president of the Progressive Conservative Association, stated in an interview here Friday.

He said that Canada was at the crossroads and must choose between that democratic way of life or the many "isms" that are being preached throughout the country. The choice of the latter would be the surrender of the people to regimentation and dictatorship, he said.

TOURING WEST

Mr. McArthur, who is a past president of the Dairy Farmers' of Canada, and a director on the executive of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, arrived here Friday in the course of a tour of Western Canada.

He will be the guest speaker at a luncheon to be held at the Macdonald hotel Friday at noon, and throughout the day will discuss organizational problems with party leaders here. He will leave Friday evening for Saskatoon.

Dealing with organization Mr. McArthur said it was the aim of the party to interest the youth of the country, and also the women in the party's platform. This platform, was designed to give opportunity to all.

YOUTH PREPARED

He said that youth was prepared and would welcome the challenge to take an active part in the formation of the policies of the nation. The democratic way of life was centred in the home, and its preservation would find its most ready champions in the women of the Dominion.

Mine Safety Discussed by U.S. Official

Safety and education in safety measures affecting coal mining operations were discussed here Thursday evening by Eugene McAuliffe, president, Union Pacific Coal Company, Omaha, Neb., at a private dinner meeting in the Macdonald hotel under the auspices of the Edmonton branch, Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Foremost mine safety authority in North America, Mr. McAuliffe traced history of safety engineering in his company, from its inception after twin disasters on company mines in 1908.

Since that time, he said, no major gas or dust explosion has occurred in any Union Pacific mine, although it was not until 16 years later that definite safety equipment on mining machinery was installed.

Safety education on mine employees was started by Mr. McAuliffe's company in 1923, first expenditures in this direction consisting $.0415 a ton over a five-year period. "The investment was made by the management on the theory that before expecting full co-operation of our men, our own house should be put in order," the speaker explained.

Complete mechanization of mine equipment in a 10-year period between 1923 and 1932 has since proved that machine operation has proved to be safer than hand operation, Mr. McAuliffe stated.

SAFETY COMPETITIONS

Safety competitions for miners were discussed. Contests at Union Pacific properties had as prizes automobiles, all-expense trips to Alaska, and war bonds since the war started. he contests are in the form of prize drawings, in which men involved in a mine accident cannot participate.

Mr. McAuliffe was introduced by Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines for Alberta.

After conferring with local coal mine operators, Mr. McAuliffe left for Calgary and Drumheller.

One Is Arrested After Car Crash In City Street

Driver of one automobile was placed under arrest late Thursday, while a woman passenger in another car was slightly injured when the two vehicles collided near 75A street and 110 avenue.

Rim-marks of the first car led two police officers to the home of a 70 street resident, where it was found that the car had been locked in the garage.

According to police, Nora Foster, 10433 77 street, who had been sitting in the front seat of an auto operated by Harold T. Walters, 5706 118 avenue, received an injured jaw. The man arrested and handed over to military authorities was said by police to be Pte. Grable Stover, United States Army Air Base.

Police constables Henry Martell and C. W. McNicholl responded to a call about 10:40 p.m., and were informed that Walters' auto had been struck, damaged and pushed to one side of the road by another car, the license number of which had been taken by a pedestrian who said he saw the accident.

LEFT SCENE

The driver of the other car police said refused to stay at the scene of the accident, it was claimed, and he drove away, leaving behind the tire from his left front wheel.

Rim-marks from the wheel were clearly visible, and led to 70 street, and stopped at a garage. No one was about the premises at the time, police stated, but shortly after, the man who gave his name as Pte. Stover, appeared, carrying the missing tire, and accompanied by the owner of the car, a woman.

OTHERS IN CAR

Besides Miss Foster, two others were riding in the Walters car when the accident occurred. They were Carl Zerp, 11820 57 street, and Irma Holing, 120 avenue and 41 street, who were seated in the back. Neither was injured.

Stover, placed under arrest and later handed over to military authorities, may have two charges laid against him, police said, one of dangerous driving, the second, failing to stop at the scene of an accident.

Club Officers Are Nominated

Slate of nominations for the executive of the Edmonton Bracken Club was presented at a meeting Thursday evening in the Royal Bank of Canada building. Election of officers will be held at the next meeting on Aug. 31.

Nominated for office are: President, Lloyd Wilson; vice-president, William Pettigrew; secretary, E. Daley; treasurer, J. Beddell; directors, Carl Clement, Don Leard, Bert Watson, James Bentley, Robert Chapman, George Hull, Stewart Douglas, James Mutter, Andrew Adamson, Gordon Christian and Lewis Brownlee; committee chairmen nominees are: publicity, Don Leard; membership, Douglas Shaw; program, Gordon Christian.

Members discussed whether or not arrangements could be made to have Mr. Bracken address them during his visit to Edmonton on Aug. 29. Douglas Shaw, president of the provisional board of the club, presided.

Appeal Suspension Of Tram Operator

Appeal against the decision indefinitely suspending Mike Onyschuk, street car operator in charge of the vehicle that piled into a CPR train at the Whyte avenue level crossing, has been made by the executive officers of the Street Railway Men's Union, No. 569, it was disclosed Friday at the Civic Block.

Mayor John W. Fry confirmed that an appeal against the suspension had been heard by the commissioners, and that a decision on the appeal would be rendered within the next few days.

Coroner's Jury Probes Drowning

A coroner's jury inquiring into the drowning of William Cozier at the Desjarlais ferry on June 19 last attached a rider to the verdict that the equipment on the ferry was faulty and had contributed to the drowning.

The accident occurred at 10 a.m. on June 19, when the deceased and his father drove onto the ferry, placing their truck in reverse gear while they crossed the river. When starting up the truck the driver overlooked the fact that the gear was in reverse and backed off the ferry into the river.

It was held by the jury that the steel guard chain on the ferry, which broke under the impact of the truck, was defective.

Street Car Traffic Reveals Increase

Passengers carried by the Edmonton street railway system for the seven-month period ended July 31, 1944, totalled 18,939,902 compared with 17,580,128 for the same period last year, an increase of 1,359,774, according to a report filed Friday with the city commissioners by Thomas Ferrier, street railway superintendent.

For the first time in three years there has been one decline recorded in the number of passengers carried on the system. This occurred during July when 2,458,918 passengers patronized the street cars and buses compared with 2,525,918 during July, 1943, a decrease of 67,025.

Decline in military population, completion of many war projects in the city and district, and good weather are given as factors contributing to the decline.

There are 10,000 species of wasps.

Acquit Constables Assault Charges

Two RCMP constables have won acquittal in police court on charges of assault causing actual bodily harm laid against them by Mrs. Maggie Grech, of the Bonnyville district.

In dismissing the charges Magistrate D. G. Woodstock commended them on the manner in which they had handled an eviction order at the Grech farm.

The alleged assaults resulted when Mrs. Grech resisted the seizure of a separator, telling the officers that they would have to take her as well as the implement. She stretched herself along the platform of the separator, and had to be taken by force from it when the officers executed a warrant for her arrest, according to evidence.

After the seizure Mrs. Grech laid charges of assault against the constables, R. G. McWhirter and Allan M. Ross, and in court testified that they kicked her and hit her. The complainant's daughter, called by the prosecution, told the court she witnessed the removal of her mother from the separator, but saw no kicking or punching by the arresting officers.

Magistrate Woodstock dismissed the charges without calling on the constables to enter a defence.

Cloudy, Showery Weather Forecast

There was a wind shift at 1 a.m. Friday morning from the southeast at three miles an hour, to northwest at 32 miles an hour. Light rain fell intermittently from 1 a.m. and during the morning.

The weather forecast for Saturday is "cloudy with light rain in the afternoon; little warmer."

The estimated low tonight is 43 degrees, the estimated high tomorrow 66 degrees. The temperature at 2 p.m. was 52 degrees.

The maximum temperature Thursday was 73 degrees, the estimated high today 66 degrees; the minimum yesterday 50 degrees, the overnight low 52 degrees.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

What do you think of the suggestion that tenants assist Wartime Housing Ltd. in landscaping the grounds of their homes?

THE ANSWERS

RONALD JEFFERSON, salesman: In view of the fact that there is a shortage of labor and because that is the reason the tenants are being given the opportunity of assisting in the work, I think it is a good idea. I presume the tenants will be anxious to aid in improving their homes.

HARRY BARTON, trucker: It should work out all right. I don't suppose many of the tenants are experienced in this work, but no doubt they will be willing to help in any way they can, and under the supervision of experts the plan should work out okay.

SAM HARTMAN, clerk: If the arrangements can be worked out satisfactorily the idea is good. Most of the tenants will be working at their regular jobs when the landscapers are busy. If they can get together they should achieve results.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Husband, 54, Wants Divorce to Re-Marry

Middle-Aged Infatuation Is Tragic and Unhappy Mate Is Warned of High Price He Will Pay for Foolishness

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a man 54 years old. Have been married 30 years to a woman whom I thought I loved. She has been a faithful wife and wonderful mother to our four daughters. But the trouble is I work in a defence factory and have fallen in love with another woman and my wife refuses to give me a divorce. Says it would be a disgrace to her and the girls.

Would it be advisable for me to leave the state and get a divorce so I can marry the woman I love? My daughters willingly will support their mother if I do but they will never forgive me and will abuse my wife.

MISERABLE FATHER AND HUSBAND.

Answer: Don't you think that you are playing it pretty low on your daughters to dump their mother's support on them in order that you may have the money you make to spend on another woman? It seems to me that a man can't be much more of a quitter than that.

You seem to be a more decent chap than that indicates and I warn you that if you play the dastardly trick you are contemplating on the women of your family that you will never have another minute's peace of conscience or any happiness. For you will have lost your own self-respect and that is more important to a man than anything else in the world.

If you were a young boy who had married before you were old enough to know your own mind or what you wanted in a wife, and then found some girl with whom you thought you had fallen in love, you might have some justification in asking your wife for a divorce, but such is not the case. You have been married to your wife for 30 years. You have been satisfied with her. She has been a faithful helpmate to you. You have absolutely no fault to find with her. And now you have decided that you are in love with someone else.

Can't you realize how foolish you are in wanting to swap her off for a strange woman? For at your time of life the days of ardent passion are gone, and if what you think is love flames up, it is just a flash in the pan and is soon over. Habit, congeniality, having adjusted themselves to each other is what makes for happiness in middle-aged people.

Don't throw this away for the thrill of a romance that wouldn't last a month after you were married to your charmer. Believe me, there is nothing so tragic as middle-aged infatuation.

DOROTHY DIX.

SON'S WIFE

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a son in the army who is devoted to his wife and who writes to me in every letter to go to see his darling wife and comfort her in his absence. The "darling wife" has been unfaithful to him from almost the time that he left and she has climaxed her conduct by eloping with a paratrooper and leaving a letter to her mother asking her to take care of the baby, which nearly broke the mother's heart as well as my own.

What should I do? Should I write to my son and tell him about his wife? I cannot bear to think of adding anything else to what he is undergoing in this awful war.

A BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER.

ANSWER: If your son's wife already has eloped with another man, I think that the kindest thing you can do is to write to your son and tell him all about it. Tell him that the baby is in good hands as his mother-in-law has taken it. He is bound to hear about his wife. Some gossip is sure to write him. And, anyway, it is no kindness to let him go on living in a fool's paradise and dreaming of coming back to a faithless woman who has shamed him and deserted him and their baby.

ANTIQUES OR HUBBY

DEAR MISS DIX: I always have been a dealer in antiques and my house is full of them. My husband has a high temper and when he gets mad he throws things and breaks them. The first thing he picks up are my antiques, which are my pride and joy. I love my husband but my antiques mean everything in the world to me and without them I would be lost. Should I divorce him before he breaks many more of them? It is either him or the antiques. What do you think?

ANGUISHED.

ANSWER: It is up to you to decide which one you value the more. Personally, I should prefer a genuine antique highboy to a husband who acted like a spoiled kid.

"Now you children just go ahead and visit with each other. You won't disturb me at all!"

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

There is scarcely a neighborhood but must suffer from the inconsiderateness of mothers who put upon neighbors and friends the burdens they themselves should carry.

One mother, of whom I heard recently, made it a practic to stay in bed most of the morning, and her children did too. But they ran wild at night, quarrelling and screaming, playing the radio loudly and depriving other more temperate neighbors of the opportunity to sleep. Incidentally, this had no relation to the father's job which was one with the usual hours of work.

A baby, being trained to stay in its playpen, was put out in the morning and left there until noon, while it alternately screamed and sobbed, driving the neighbors to a frenzy through sheer helplessness to do anything about it.

There are parents who slough off all responsibility for their children the moment they leave the house. Someone else has to drag Sonny out of the street where he is jeopardizing his life. Other mothers have to bring in their loudly crying offspring, beaten over the head by these unsupervised children or hide their resentment at being made the children's nursemaid from morning until night.

Some parents rely on the neighbor's play-yard for their children's entertainment and never dream of asking anyone over to play at their homes, or of feeling the necessity to provide play materials for them.

A mother may go out to shop leaving her child with another busy mother and excusing herself with, "Evelyn loves so to play with Tommy. She'll be good while I'm gone." Hours later she may return, having made Tommy's mother responsible for feeding, waiting upon and solving the play difficulties of two children.

These are the fundamental grievances in many neighborhoods and they need frank speech instead of under-handed gossip and secret grumbling.

Mothers everywhere are happy to help each other, but there must be co-operation. It is the obligation of every parent to carry the burden of her children's care, feeding and the results of their behavior. Otherwise, she is not doing her job.

Our leaflet "Children's Quarrels," tries to make clear the mother's part in these neighborhood fracases. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of this newspaper.

KERNELS IN THE NECK

In a talk about tonsils and adenoids published here recently, I said that in my opinion one of the best indexes that the enlarged tonsils (with or without associated "adenoids"—that is enlarged pharyngeal or third tonsil) may be responsible for a child's poor health, is what people commonly call "kernels" in the neck, and doctors call cervical adenitis. That is to say the lymph nodes (popularly called "glands") along the sides of the neck from under the ears to the top of the breastbone are enlarged, sometimes somewhat tender, and can be felt as small lumps, or seen as small swellings when they are quite inflamed.

This is merely my opinion, remember, and I speak only for myself, nor for any part of the medical profession. I am not too positive that such "kernels" are sufficient to indicate tonsillotomy, "clipping," the tonsils not the atrocity of "complete removal" — which is "complete" in theory only), but if I were to decide whether a child with large tonsils and adenoids and, say, ear trouble or obstruction of normal breathing should have a tonsillotomy and adenoidotomy, provided the tonsils and adenoids had failed to shrink under X-ray treatments, I'd advise the operation if the child had "kernels" in the neck.

It must be remembered that kernels in the neck may be due to several other causes than tonsils or adenoids. Generally a child with middle ear infection or "running ear" has kernals on the same side of the neck. If the child has one or more decayed teeth—which no well cared for child should be permitted to have nowadays—there is usually more or less cervical adenitis which clears up after the cavities are properly filled. Any chronic infection in the nasal cavity or in one of the sinuses may cause kernels in the neck. Even chronic eczema about the face, head or neck is usually associated with kernels in the neck.

Tuberculosis of the lymph nodes in the neck or elsewhere is the condition formerly called "scrofula." This condition, tuberculosis adenitis, whether lymph nodes or glands in the neck alone are involved or whether lymph nodes in other parts of the body, say those around the bronchial tubes back of the windpipe and those behind the intestines in the abdomen, are likewise involved, is so important that we shall only mention it here—it merits more detailed discussion in talks to follow.

Heavy Allied Raid On Miti Airdrome

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Aug. 18—(AP)—A sizeable force of Allied heavy and medium bombers Wednesday bombed Miti airdrome, northern Halmahera Island, in the most concentrated assault yet delivered against any single point in this area. Headquarters announced the raid today. Twenty-three parked planes were destroyed or damaged during the raid, as Allied planes continued attacks which the communique said rapidly were "reducing the enemy's potential strength in the Molucca Islands."

Leyland Girl Married Here

In the archbishop's residence in Edmonton on Thursday, Aug. 10, the Rev. Father William Young, of Cadomin, performed the marriage of Miss Grace Marie Nicolson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nicolson, of Leyland, and John Charles McLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McLeod, of Cadomin.

The bride, in the absence of her father, was given in marriage by her brother, LAC John D. Nicolson, No. 4 ITS, RCAF. For the ceremony she wore a tailored suit in oatmeal beige summerweight wool, accented with chocolate brown accessories and a shoulder corsage of ophelia roses.

The best man was the bridegroom's twin brother, LAC Sidney D. McLeod, of No. 5 OTU, RCAF of Boundary Bay, B.C.

36th Annual Flower Show

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, Aug. 22 and 23, the Edmonton Horticultural Society is holding its 36th annual flower, fruit and vegetable show in the Market building.

It is a fact that there are still several persons taking an active part in the association's affairs who were at the first meeting when the association was started.

In its early years the idea was prevalent that such vegetables as tomatoes, cucumbers and corn could not be successfully grown in this district. Now these vegetables and many others may be seen growing in hundreds of gardens around the city.

The work of the Society has been going on quietly and improvements in quality of the vegetables and fruits must be seen to be appreciated.

All members of the Armed Forces are invited to attend this show as guests of the association.

Julia Scott Pledges Vows

PIBROCH, Alta., Aug. 18—Before a setting of foliage and pink and white summer flowers, in the Sunniebend hall, Aug. 15, the marriage took place of Miss Julia Winnifred Scott, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott, of Sunniebend, Alta., and Erwin Orville Bannister, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bannister, formerly of Westlock. The Rev. A. H. Daynard officiated. Given in marriage by her father the bride was dressed in a two-piece street-length frock of white brocade. Her hat was a matching "half-hat" trimmed with flowers and veiling, and she carried a sheaf of white gladioli. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls belonging to her mother, a gift of her father to her mother on their wedding day.

ATTEND BRIDE

Miss Eileen Scott attended her sister as maid-of-honor, wearing a two-piece frock of rose, with matching rose hat. Her bouquet was of sweet peas in colonial style.

Frank Plain was best man, and Mrs. A. H. Daynard played the wedding music.

HOLD RECEPTION

After the ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was set in white, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Vases of sweet peas flanked the centrepiece. Mr. Daynard proposed the toast.

The couple left for a short wedding trip to Edmonton. The bride changed to a printed silk dress of rosewood with coat and accessories to tone. On their return they will take up residence on the bridegroom's farm near Rossington.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Leslie Parsons, Mrs. M. Watson, Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Allie Watt, Miss M. Weibelzahl, Rossington; and Mrs. T. Foster, Dapp, Alta.

Exhibition of 50 Pictures Depicts RCAF Experiences

"Ready for Take-off" by Sgt. Crowley Brown, RCAF, is the best picture, according to judges of the National Gallery, Ottawa, in an RCAF exhibition of paintings and drawings on display at the Empire Room of the Hudson's Bay Company store from Aug. 18 to 20. The pictures are selections from the RCAF Art Show recently held in the gallery. The group is a travelling exhibit of more than 50 pictures by RCAF personnel from aircraftsman to air vice-marshal. The pictures are chosen from 700 entries, many from overseas, Newfoundland as well as Canada.

Judges for the exhibition were Dr. A. Y. Jackson, war artist, Flying Officer Edwin Holgate of the National Gallery; A. O. McMurry, director of the National Gallery, and Flying Officer C. Goldhamer, director RCAF station art groups.

HOUSE PAINTS

A painting done with ordinary house paints and with the regular house painter's brush, is an exhibit by Ronald L. Graham, whose home is in Macleod. The exhibit, "Navigation Flight" is a powerful painting depicting a rugged mountain scene of high peaks with two hanging glacier lakes—probably a scene in the Rocky Mountain range along the Columbia highway.

There are several oil portraits of RCAF men and women, among them a picture of Col. (Rigger) Seager done by LAC. M. Reinblatt, Montreal.

Flying Officer George Broomfield has, among the exhibits, three strong oil paintings—"Return from Berlin", "Take Off for Essen", and "John Barleycorn Inn", Cadnam, Eng.

Of interest to Edmonton is an entry by "Bud" Gillies, RCAF, of the guardroom buildings at No. 3 "M" depot.

A splendid winter scene is that done by Flying Officer J. Ferguson, Ottawa, called "Snow Forecast".

"Going Up on Gunnery Exercises" by AC. A. Bayenfsky, Toronto, shows two airmen in full flying regalia including parachutes.

The exhibition, which is free to the public, is attracting not only air force personnel but many civilians.

College Chapel Wedding Scene

St. Stephen's College chapel, decorated with gladioli and ferns, was the scene of the wedding, Wednesday at 7 p.m. of Miss Agnes Wotherspoon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Wotherspoon, and Stoker Arthur Frederick Job, RC NVR, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Job, of Edmonton. The Rev. A. E. Argue performed the ceremony. Miss Mabel Job played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory brocaded satin, princess style. The fitted basque bodice of her gown was shirred on either side, and the leg o'mutton sleeves were tapered in lily points over the wrists. Her veil was embroidered net, worn by her aunt on her wedding day, was shirred to a coronet of orange blossoms and cascaded to the floor in flimy folds. She carried an arm bouquet of deep red roses and white sweet peas.

ATTENDS BRIDE

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Wilfred McColl, sister of the bride, was gowned in dusky rose chiffon with fitted basque bodice, full bishop sleeves and bouffant skirt. She wore a tiny floral hat to match, veiled in blue, and carried an arm bouquet of yellow gladioli.

Best man was Albert Glazier, and William Wotherspoon, the bride's brother, ushered guests to their places.

Wedding reception to 45 guests was held in the banquet room of the Masonic Temple. Receiving with the bridal party, Mrs. Wotherspoon was smart in a two-piece ensemble of lavender crepe accented with hat and gloves in deep purple shade, and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Job wore a redingote model in navy over jewel blue, and corsage of pink roses.

BRIDE'S TABLE

Later in the evening, the couple left on a wedding trip to Radium Hot Springs, after which they will be at home at Victoria, where the bridegroom is stationed with the RCNVR.

For travelling, the bride wore an old gold dressmaker suit and a brown and gold top coat trimmed in fox. Her accessories were in chocolate brown.

These Expert Tricks Will Make Worn Leather Bags Look New

By EPSIE KINARD

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Use the right kind of rejuvenating tricks on your old leather handbag, and nine chances out of ten you can make it look as lustrous, supple and elegant as the new ones you have found too expensive to buy.

Brush your bag inside and out. Empty removable fittings. Plump out by stuffing with paper. Then do a spit' and polish job on the outside. These four steps, say the professional service people, doing a land-office business in bag restorations, will put all but the most battered bag back into the running.

SAME JOB

To do the same job as these de luxe repair shops do, here are some further tips by experts, of the firm of T. O. Dey, who give you the professional low-down:

Clean your bag with a cleaning fluid, specialised for leather, and soil and most stains will drop off, like an old skin. They will, that is, from any kind of leather bag—fuzzy or slick—if you'll make a ball out of toweling or terry cloth, will dampen it with cleaning fluid, and will go over surfaces thoroughly and into every nook and cranny.

If your bag is fuzzy—suede, antelope or such—brush like mad after you've cleaned it. You can make the most matted or glazed surface look as upstanding as plush.

Bags of pin seal, cowhide, reptile and other smooth leathers that have faded or discolored can be touched up after cleaning with a stain-type shoe polish, which you can get in various colors. Apply, let the stain dry, and you're ready to polish. To coax out a mirror-shine in which you can see your nose, use a neutral cream polish, like your shine boy uses—and lots of elbow grease.

Tarnished metal trimmings can be brightened, if you'll use metal polish. Experts favor a polish-impregnated cloth, very much like the blits cloth that G. I. Joe uses to keep his buttons bright. After luster on metal trimmings is restored, you can discourage tarnish from returning if you'll coat clasps, buckles and gadgets with a liquid retardant: the kind that is put out for household silver.

PROFESSIONALS

Bags that are too far gone for an amateur to reclaim can be restored by professionals, who will re-dye, re-line, re-nap, put in a new backing, and give you new straps, clasps, zippers or buckles.

And when you get your old bag fixed up, keep it that way by lightening the load it habitually carries, emptying its contents before you put it away. For its overnight keep, stuff with tissue as carefully as a taxidermist would a prized bird, to puff out sides; to cushion folds and pleats. Then put it away in a covered box.

Final Returns Of Alberta Vote Are Filed Here

The 57 members of Alberta's next legislature were declared elected officially Friday by returning officers in their home constituencies.

Under terms of the Alberta Election Act, 10 days must elapse between election day and the date of filing official returns by returning officers. If recounts are demanded by a candidate or his agent, a request must be made to the returning officer within this period. None was sought in any of the province's 49 constituencies within this time.

Official returns, together with election equipment, must be sent to Robert A. Andison, clerk of the executive council, Edmonton. Final official recognition of election results is their publication in an issue of "The Alberta Gazette."

Final party standings in the new legislature are as follows: Social Credit, 51; Independent party, 3; CCF, 2; Veterans, 1.

Ask Employers To Assist Harvest

All larger employers in the prairie provinces have been sent a circular letter, by Arthur MacNamara, National Selective Service director, urging that they release staff temporarily, when at all possible, in order that they may assist in harvesting the 1944 crop.

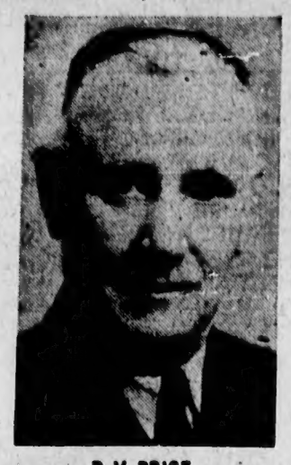

Selective Service officials here said that, in view of the fact that the crop in Alberta, particularly that north of Calgary, is very heavy, every able-bodied person will be required to work in the harvest fields this fall.

The exact amount of help necessary cannot yet be determined because of the early stage of the harvest as yet, and it is not known how many persons will come from eastern Canada and nothing very definite is known about the number of soldiers who have harvest leave. Taking all this into consideration though it is still expected that a great deal of help will be needed.

Have Served in All Victory Loans

R. E. STAPLES

R. V. PRICE

R. E. (Ray) Staples, who voluntarily served in every War Loan effort as city chairman of National War Finance committee since the beginning of the war, has found it necessary to relinquish that post through pressure of business and other demands. R. V. (Bob) Price will succeed Mr. Staples. He has served as chairman of payroll savings section and will carry on as city chairman on the same voluntary basis as he has served in all past endeavors during the war. With increased tempo of war on all fronts and consequent increase in financial demands, the citizens of Edmonton and North Alberta have been reminded by officials that the 7th Victory Loan will be instituted the latter part of October, and their support will be sought in keeping Alberta in the forefront in backing up the fighting forces.

Housing Program To Be Discussed

To discuss Alberta's planned $1,000,000 housing program, conferences between government officers and executive of the Union of Alberta Municipalities were held Friday at the Legislative buildings.

The housing plan was announced in Calgary recently by Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general. The government under the scheme would advance $1,000,000 and municipalities would be asked to buy shares, the monies obtained forming a revolving fund available for public borrowing at rates not to exceed four per cent.

City commissioner R. J. Gibb represented Edmonton at the parleys.

Before the Magistrate

Edward J. Morgan, paced at 65 miles an hour by RCMP patrol officers, as he drove on the Calgary highway pleaded guilty before Magistrate Harold L. Hawe, K.C., Thursday afternoon to a charge of fast driving, and was fined $10 or 20 days.

Harry Dubeta of Edmonton pleaded guilty to having loose and uncancelled gas coupons in his possession, and was fined $15 or 20 days.

Walter M. Crockett, also of Edmonton, pleaded guilty to using purple gasoline in his auto, and was assessed $10 or 15 days, while his car was impounded for 14 days. Before he can have it again, he must pay storage charges.

John Conrad of Toronto and Lyall Barrie of Edmonton, charged with driving at more than 40 miles an hour, were fined $15 or 20 days. The speed of each accused was said by police to have been 60 miles an hour.

Penalties of $10 or 15 days for other infringements of the highway vehicles and traffic act were imposed on Arthur L. Huff and Morris M. Stevenson of Edmonton; on John L. Sharuga of Bawlf, and Eugene W. Modin of Leduc. Donald C. Devine of Marwayne was fined $5 or seven days for operating a public service vehicle on a highway without a permit.

Edward Longmore was in an Edmonton departmental store on Thursday, and visited the groceteria, where he was observed placing something in his pocket. Arrested as he left the store, he was taken to the office, where he objected to being searched by a woman detective. When he finally was searched, he yielded up two bottles of extract.

He pleaded guilty before Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., Friday morning to the charge of theft, and was reminded that he had been a regular customer of this court since 1918, while this was his third appearance in 1944. He was sentenced to 30 days with hard labor.

Theodore Dillabough pleaded guilty to being illegally in possession of liquor and stolen property. On the first charge he was fined $20 or 30 days; on the other, $10 or 14 days, with terms to run consecutively. Dillabough went to a dance hall where the liquor was seen by a special constable. A city constable, upon being called, found a towel with hotel markings on it, on the accused's person. A check showed that the accused had never been registered at that particular hotel, the court was informed.

Arni C. Reykadahl, who pleaded guilty to four charges of forgery and four more of uttering forged documents, had his case remanded for a week for sentence.

Calgary Unit Is Winner at Camp Shooting

In a close contest, the 2nd (Res.) Bn., Calgary Highlanders, won the RCASC trophy with the highest aggregate score in the inter-unit shooting competition held at Camp Sarcee among units attending both reserve army corps, according to an announcement made by headquarters of the 41st (Res) Brigade Group.

The 14th (Res) Army Tank Regiment (Calgary Regiment T) finished second, winning both the rifle and light machine gun competitions. The Highlanders won the machine carbine (Reising), and the pistol events.

Twenty-four all ranks were selected from each unit in the two camps in firing the rifle competitions; 12 all ranks in the light machine gun; six NCO's in the Reising and 15 officers in the pistol.

OTHER WINNERS

Other trophy winners were as follows:

Father Coughlin's Union Dissolved

DETROIT, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The National Union for Social Service organized in 1934 by the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin, has been dissolved, it was disclosed yesterday with the filing of papers at the secretary of state's office in Lansing. A little over a year after its organization in 1934 Father Coughlin said the union's membership had passed 5,000,000, and had a goal of 10,000,000 members.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Robertson, 7824 Jasper avenue. He enlisted in Edmonton in April, 1942, with the Edmonton Fusiliers and later was transferred to the Oxford Rifles. This year he volunteered to serve with the British Army and went overseas in May, proceeding to France in July. He attended Cromdale and Eastwood high schools and was a prominent athlete and "Y" worker. At the time of his enlistment he was employed by the Imperial Bank.

Craig Wood Loses In Second Round Of PGA Tourney

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 18.—(AP)—While the two tournament hot shots breezed through to easy victories, two other name players were tumbled out of competition Thursday to provide the upsets of second-round matches of the 1944 United States Professional Golfers Association championship.

Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., and Harold McSpaden, Philadelphia, raced through their 36-hole matches, the former walloping Mark Fry, Oakland, 7 and 6, and McSpaden taking the measure of Fred Annon, Mamaroneck, N.Y., 8 and 7.

It was the dumping of the duration United States open champion, Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, and Sam Byrd, Detroit, that furnished the thrills for a gallery that numbered more than 3,000.

Art Bell, lanky San Francisco power hitter, ousted Wood by a 3 and 2 count. It was no more surprising than the 2 and 1 decision posted for Charles Congdon, Tacoma, Wash., over Byrd, the former New York Yankee outfielder.

Rollie Hemsley Leaves Yankees

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(AP)—Rollie Hemsley bowed out of baseball for the duration and probably for keeps Thursday, with a personal vote of thanks for a job well done from President Ed. Barrow of New York Yankees. The Yankee catcher was to be inducted into the United States Navy this morning.

Manager Joe McCarthy had a warm spot in his heart for the durable catcher who performed with six big league clubs during his 17-year stay in the big show. The 37-year-old Hemsley had done two turns with Cincinnati and one each with Pittsburgh and Chicago in the National and St. Louis and Cleveland in the American when he was handed his unconditional release by the Reds on July 17, 1942.

No Major Actions On Italian Front

By JAMES E. ROPER

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

ROME, Aug. 18—British Eighth army patrols, rushing northward from the centre of the Allied line east of Florence were reported meeting little or no German resistance today as they probed around two sides of Pontassieve.

Although there were no major actions along the entire front, patrol activity was aggressive in both the Fifth and Eighth army sectors.

Troops of an Indian division, patrolling the Arno sector, reached Rosano, one and one-half miles southwest of Pontassieve and found it clear of Germans. Indian troops probed to a point two and one-half miles northeast of Pontassieve without contacting the enemy.

Village in Ontario Hit by "Cyclone"

SMITHS FALLS, Ont., Aug. 18.—(CP)—Residents of the nearby hamlet of Easton's Corners began last night the work of repairing extensive damage caused when a 20-minute "cyclone," starting with a "small black cloud" on the horizon, ripped through the village yesterday, flattening buildings, toppling trees and blocking highways. Communications, shattered when the gale tore down telephone and hydro-electric wires, was restored late yesterday.

Horses Burned

TIFFIN, O., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Five race horses were burned to death in a fire Thursday which destroyed three barns at Seneca fair grounds and caused damage estimated at more than $25,000. Waak Abbe, two year old, recently sold to Baroness Wright, Kent, England; Wayne Hedgewood, and Wave Abbe, yearling, owned by T. R. Shanaberger of San Diego, Calif., were among the five killed in the blaze.

River Waters Retard Survey Flood Waters

Flood waters in the Pembina-Paddle river region are too high in some sections to permit surveys of land damage, according to Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of municipal affairs.

Three departmental fieldmen are inspecting damage to farms in improvement districts in the flood area, and incomplete reports indicate many farms have been completely ruined, the topsoil having been washed away. The 1944 crop on farms visited is either a total loss or is severely damaged, Mr. Gerhart said Friday.

Some farms have been vastly improved by the flood, the minister said, silt deposited by high water being worth far more than crop losses suffered.

COURSES CHANGED

Whole river courses have changed in the flood region. Some districts have not yet been inspected, due to continued high water and impassable roads. Final reports are not expected at municipal affairs headquarters for another two or three weeks.

Occurrring in June, flooding by the Pembina and Paddle rivers was worst in 40 years of Alberta's history. In some cases, water reached a depth of 40 feet. Farmers lost homes, barns, livestock, damage running into millions of dollars.

It was announced by the government that arrangements would be made to tarnsfer farmers in improvement districts to suitable government land elswhere, in cases where flood damage had ruined holdings.

Land in organized municipalities was to be treated similarly, after municipal authorities had completed a survey ascertaining flood damage.

ABOUT SAME TIME

The municipalities' survey is expected by Mr. Gerhart around the same time the improvement district report is received.

Government action is expected to be taken after the reports have been studied here and at Ottawa.

CURIOUS WORLD

Wounded Return On Lady Nelson

HALIFAX, Aug. 18—(CP)—Hundreds of Canadian servicemen, most of them survivors of the bloody battle of Normandy, were trooping ashore today from the Canadian hospital ship Lady Nelson, in port with more than 600 of the Dominion's fighting men from the land, sea and air force.

Laden with one of her biggest complements of the war, the Nelson carried, besides the veterans of France, men wounded in Italy, air fighters of the RCAF, a few navy men and the customary quota of men injured in training or sent home from Britain through illness or lowered category.

Waiting hospital trains were to leave later in the day for the interior.

The great mass of new arrivals were men who had lived through the fierce early fighting on the Norman beaches. Some had fallen wounded on D-day; others had fought their way through a few days or weeks. There was not one of them but had seen tough battling.

Ankara Reports Albania Landing

LONDON, Aug. 18—(CP)—The Ankara radio said today "allied forces have landed at Durazzo in Albania."

The report was without Allied confirmation.

The broadcast said it was quoting a special Allied Mediterranean radio bulletin. BBC Monitors said they heard the Turkish broadcast, beamed to Bulgaria.

Durazzo is the principal port of Albania. It lies about 20 miles west of the capital of Tirana which was bombed by the Allies Tuesday. It is across the Adriatic from Brindisi and Bari in Italy.

There has been widespread guerilla activity within Albania linked with Marshal Tito's Yugoslav partisan activities.

In Washington, both the United States war and navy departments said they had heard nothing of the report and had no comment to make.

JUST BAD NEWS SO NAZI PAPERS ARE CUT DOWN

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(CP)—With practically nothing but bad news and propaganda left to print, German newspapers will be throttled down to seven per cent of their pre-war newsprint consumption as a "total mobilization" measure, it was disclosed yesterday in a Berlin broadcast listing a large number of newspapers to be discontinued or merged. Goering's national Zeitung, for instance, will absorb five other newspapers. All Sunday editions were abolished, except for a few of the most important Nazi organs.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—(CP)—The gold group developed strength in the final hour of today's Toronto exchange session and some wide gains were recorded. The base metals and industrials were less active but fairly strong and the western oil displayed only mild weakness. Volume for the day was off from that of the previous session to about 350,000 shares. The Yellowknife issues were leaders in the late advance.

Steep rock gained 10 cents on the news that production would start next week and small gains were posted by other base metals including Ventures, and Waite-Amulet. Pend Oreille lost 5 and Noranda a point.

Montreal & Toronto

MONTREAL, Aug. 18—(CP)—A moderately cheerful tone prevailed in trading up to the final hour today on the Montreal stock exchange and curb market. Activity centred in the paper group and changes were few and narrow. Utilities gained on the whole. Pluses predominated in the industrials list.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(AP)—The stock market gave another selective recovery performance today although a little cashing in by those who had good profits on the substantial two-session upswing restricted advances and put a number of leaders in the losing ranks.

Buyers continued to lean toward equities of companies with bright peace prospects as the Allies swept forward in Europe and the fall of the Nazis was only a question of time.

Most Canadian issues held firm, some gaining strength.

Rye Futures Make Headway

WINNIPEG, Aug. 18—(CP)—Ignoring weakness in the Chicago market rye futures on the Winnipeg grain exchange advanced independently today to close ⅞ to 1⅛ cent higher. October finished at $1.08⅜, December $1.06⅝ and May $$1.08¼.

Light offerings and good buying for American account influenced the day's trend.

Traders reported export wheat purchases by the United Kingdom at 250,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern.

Probe Ship Loss

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—The transport department has ordered a preliminary inquiry into circumstances surrounding the loss of the steamship M. F. Therese in northern Hudson Bay waters Aug. 13, it was announced yesterday. Details regarding the accident were not given, but it is known that there were no casualties.

Weather Vain

Screen starlet Susan Peters doesn't seem to trust that perpetual summer tradition of southern California, judging by the fact that she wear a fur topper over her snazzy, flamingo bathing suit. Or don't you care?

Says Canada More Divided Than Ever

VICTORIA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—John Bracken, national Progressive Conservative leader, told a luncheon audience here yesterday that "because of excessive partisan teaching for purely political motives," Canada is more divided now than it ever was.

"We are not a part of Vichy, France, nor of Russia," he said. "We stand for Canada, a great nation among the nations of the British Commonwealth."

He asserted Canada has learned two things from the Quebec election—that Quebec will no longer follow Liberal leaders and that the country now is paying a high price for the false teachings of past years.

"I do not blame the rank and file of the people there," he continued. "For 27 years their leaders have given them false teachings. They have told them that there would be no more wars and if there were Canada would not participate. They have told them that if an expeditionary force were sent, it would be on a voluntary basis."

Finns Accused of Seeking to Wipe Out Karelians

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's "extraordinary state commission for investigating crimes committed on Soviet soil," today accused the Finnish government of "deliberately seeking to wipe out the population of the Karelian republic" in order to turn the area "into a Finnish colony."

Bearish Trend on Chicago Market

CHICAGO, Aug. 18—(AP)—Allied victories in Europe and the growing belief that there will be large post-war surpluses of farm commodities encouraged a bearish trend in grain futures today.

Wheat led the price decline with the distant May contract at one time as much as 1⅛ cents below yesterday's close. Shortly after noon the trade quieted and prices were fractions above the day's lows. Some commercial buyers of wheat was reported, but the purchases were small.

Rye held about steady despite a rally at Winnipeg where early in the day a decline caused some selling. Rains in the drought region of the Middle-West were responsible for some of the liquidation.

At the close wheat was ⅛ to 1⅛ lower, oats were ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, rye was ⅛ to ½ higher, barley was unchanged to ⅛ higher.

CLOSE

Wheat: Sept. 1.54⅝, Dec. 1.54⅞-⅝, May 1.54-1.53⅞, July 1.49⅞.

Oats: Sept. 71⅜-¼, Dec. 68⅝-⅜, Sept. 67⅛-⅜, July 64⅝.

Rye: Sept. 1.07¼-⅛, Dec. 1.07⅛-1.07, May 1.07½-⅜, July 1.06.

Barley: Sept. 1.14⅝, Dec. 1.11⅝, May 1.10¾.

Cash wheat, No. 1 hard, 1.60-1.66¼; barley, malting, 1.15-1.36 norm.

Military Attaches Arrive in City From Wainwright

The French underground, under command of Gen. Koenig stopped "one full German division" by sabotage on D-day, Maj. M. De MacMahon, military attache from France, said in an interview here Thursday night.

Just arrived from Wainwright, approximately 107 miles east of Edmonton, Maj. De MacMahon, said the French underground is "very well" organized and that the French people are "waiting patiently for the day of liberation."

GOING TO OTTAWA

En route to Ottawa, where he is stationed, Maj. De MacMahon stopped off in Edmonton overnight after a three-day visit to the Wainwright basic military training centre where he and seven other military attaches had front-line seats in full-scale manoeuvres staged by Canadian troops over 1,239 square miles area set out recently by Canadian military authorities.

The attaches — from France, Norway, Czecho-Slovakia and Russia— accompanied by high-ranking Canadian military officials, visited the camp under auspices of National Defence headquarters.

The 40-year-old balding French warrior, fighter pilot and leader of a squadron in this war, came to Canada just 2½ months ago. He is a member of the Legion of Honor and wears the War Cross with two stripes.

BLAMES FIFTH COLUMN

Fifth columnists, he said, were responsible for the fall of France in June, 1940. "We've suffered many casualties through bombing and shelling, but the Frenchmen don't mind. We'd rather have Allied shells than German, fall in our territory. We'll get back on our feet very quickly after this war."

Maj.-Gen. Birger Ljundberg, minister of war in the Norwegian government when Germany invaded his country, also in the party, said he "awoke one morning to the the Nazis and invaded Holland and Belgium." He went to London where he was told the British would have to evacuate troops because of the coastal situation" in those dark days of 1939-40.

Returning to Norway, he escaped with King Haakon to Britain. "In the woods we were machine-gunned and bombed, but we made it," he said.

OTHERS IN PARTY

The attaches, who arrived here early last evening, will return to Ottawa today. They are:

Maj. D. E. MacMahon and Lieut. D. M. De Fossey from France; Maj.-Gen. Ljundberg and Lieut. Egil Langland, Norway; Lt.-Col. Han Amburg and Staff Capt. Ludiet Sozansky, Checho-Slovakia, and Lt.-Col. Peter S. Motinov and Maj. A. Romanov of Russia.

Britain and U.S. To Aid Hungarian Jewish Refugees

LONDON, Aug. 18—(CP)—A joint Anglo-American announcement last night said Britain and the United States have accepted the offer of the Hungarian government for the release of Jews and that Anglo-American authorities will arrange to take care of Hungarian Jews who reach neutral or United Nationals territory.

The announcement said that the international committee of the Red Cross had transmitted to the governments of the United Kingdom and the United States an offer of the Hungarian government regarding the emigration and treatment of Jews.

TRADES ON STAR

BIRMINGHAM.—(CP)—An ex-soldier, who never fought in Africa, had a frank answer when the judge asked him why he wore the Africa star. "I did it to get booze and free bus rides; as soon as people see this they will buy you anything," he said. The court gave him two months hard labor.

Pin-Up Gals Banished From Airmen's Lockers At No. 36 Penhold School

CALGARY, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Artistic appeal has succumbed to the utilitarian at No. 36 SFTS, RAF, Penhold, according to a recent edict at the station which has banished, for the sake of efficiency and order, pin-up girls from the airmen's lockers.

The order banishes Betty Grable and all her fellow pin-up girls from their homes, laments "The Penhold Log," official publication of this station.

ALL OFFICIAL NOW

In place of Betty and her companions the central spot of the lockers is occupied now with the utilitarian "bedcard" giving the official record of the airman's name, rank and other necessary information.

An official explanation is that the step was necessary in connection with inspection of lockers. Pin-up girls detracted, it was stated, from their strictly efficient appearance.

In a doleful dirge a station poet records their demise in the lockers:

Alas, poor Betty,
In place of your bust
A lowly bedcard
Is now a "must";
In place of your legs
It's laid down in "regs"—
We must stare very hard
At a pin-up bedcard.

Officers at the station point out that while the pin-ups have been banned from the lockers they are still permissable for other parts of the station.

Banished

Soldiers Going To Saskatchewan For Harvest Work

REGINA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—One thousand soldiers of the Pacific Command stationed at Wainwright, Alta., this week, will leave for work in Saskatchewan harvest fields. Their movement will be the second big influx of soldiers for the harvest. Already arrived and out to work are 350 soldiers from Eastern Canada who got into Dundurn camp early this week. According to Acting Agriculture Minister L. F. McIntosh, it is expected that 4,000 men, both civilians and members of the armed forces, will have moved out of Ontario by August 26.

Western Harvest Is Well Advanced

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 18—Cutting and threshing of western Canada's grain crop is well advanced and will be general by next week, the Canadian Pacific Railway's agricultural department's weekly report said today. Approximately 21 per cent of Manitoba's wheat crop is now cut; about nine per cent of Saskatchewan's wheat, and eight per cent of Alberta's wheat is cut.

Approximately 14 per cent of oats and 23 per cent of barley have been cut in Saskatchewan; and 30 per cent oats and barley have been cut in Manitoba. It is estimated 16 per cent of oats and barley have been harvested in Alberta.

Cutting in southern Alberta was held up by wet conditions but is becoming general again. Operations also have begun in a few places in south central and north central Alberta and should be come more widespread in central and northern Alberta next week and be general by the end of month.

Some headway also has been made with threshing and combining in southern Alberta, most progress being in the southeast along the Maple Creek, Taber, Stirling and Coutts sub-divisions.

Army's Public Relations Chief Is Made Colonel

OTTAWA, Aug. 18—(CP)—Frank Jennings, Canadian army director of public relations, has been promoted from the rank of lieutenant-colonel to colonel, defence headquarters announced yesterday.

Col. Jennings, former editor-in-chief of the Saint John Telegraph-Journal and the Evening Times-Globe, was appointed chief public relations officer in February, 1943, and succeeded to his present post in June, 1943, on the retirement of G. Herbert Sallans of Montreal.

BORN IN SAINT JOHN

Born in Saint John, Col. Jennings has been engaged continuously in newspaper work with the Saint John dailies since early in 1914, except for military duties in the last war and this.

He enlisted in the ranks with the Canadian Field Artillery in 1914, was promoted to quartermaster-sergeant early the following year and after service in France and Belgium received his commission in 1917.

On his return from overseas in 1919 he resumed newspaper work and was successively news editor, managing editor, associate editor and editor-in-chief.

IN RESERVE ARMY

Col. Jennings served in the reserve army in New Brunswick, Military District No. 7, during the period 1940-1943, and at the same time was secretary of the civilian recruiting organization for the district. He is past president of the Saint John Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., and of the Saint John Rotary Club.

Coal Production Decline Reported

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Production of coal in Canada in June amounted to 1,234,191 tons, a decline of 10 per cent from the production of 1,365,796 tons in June, 1943, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. Output in the first six months of this year totalled 8,386,692 tons, compared with 8,897,151 tons in the corresponding period of last year.

Butter Output Shows Decrease In Last Month

Alberta butter production, 5,249,314 pounds for the month of July, lagged 7.2 per cent behind production for the same month of 1943, it is revealed in a report issued Friday by D. H. McCallum, provincial dairy commissioner.

The decrease is due to drying up of pastures in east-central and southern Alberta, where monthly production dropped 13.1 and 7.2 per cent respectively from July, 1943, totals.

By sections, provincial production in July was as follows: North, 2,320,210 lbs., a 2.5 per cent drop from last year; central, 1,809,994 lbs., and south, 919,110 lbs.

Total provincial production of butter since Jan. 1 stood at 23,418,229 lbs., 9 per cent below the 25,634,257 lbs. produced in the first seven months of last year.

CHEESE PRODUCTION

Factory cheese production in the province showed a continued gain, with July production 35.4 per cent over 1943 totals with 478,042 lbs. manufactured. Up to the end of July, 2,290,721 lbs. of cheese were produced, a 47.9 per cent increase over last year.

Alberta butter stocks as at Aug. 1 stood at 4,657,036 lbs, 991,779 lbs. less than on the same date in 1943, while factory cheese stocks were up 72.7 per cent on the same day, to 1,392,092 lbs.

Canadian creamery butter stocks at Aug. 1 were down 9,045,068 lbs. from stocks on Aug. 1, 1943.

Story of Canol Is Told in Book

"Canol", a publication compiled and edited by the public relations branch of the Northwest Service Command, released on Friday, tells the story of the construction of the vast northern oil project. Maj. Freeman C. Bishop, Lt. Cecil E. Barger, Lt. Charles S. Lecky, Jr., 2nd-Lt. Gordon A. Williams, S-Sgt. Fredercik W. Ayer, S-Sgt. Donald R. Phelps, Miss Maxine Sitton and Mrs. Margaret O'Brien are the compilers and editors.

The branch expressed appreciation to the U.S. Signal Corps for splendid co-operation, and the mimeograph and multilith section for craftsmanship in producing this publication with only those facilities available within the command itself.

The book is dedicated to the perseverance and ingenuity of the men who made the Canol project possible and to the defeat of the "Japanese Empire".

The book is a splendid history of the great northwest as shown in the Canol project, which was conceived in April of 1942 when the Japanese were preparing to take Kiska and Attu and appeared likely to invade Alaska and the Northern Canadian coast. It consists of a construction road 595 miles long from Norman Wells, N.W.T., where a large oil field was developed, to Whitehorse, Y.T., where a refinery was built and from which point a network of distribution pipelines extends into Alaska and Northwestern Canada to supply refined products of the Norman field to traffic on the Alaska Highway and the servicing of the various air fields on the Arctic route. The story is forcefully told in both pictures and explanatory matter.

Nephew of Former Canadian Premier Killed in Action

VANCOUVER, Aug. 18—(CP)—Capt. Ronald Bennett, 27, son of Capt. Ronald Bennett of Sackville, N.B., and nephew of Viscount R. B. Bennett, former prime minister of Canada, has been killed in action, his grandmother, Mrs. William Martin, has been notified. Capt. Bennett was chief of "Bennett's Commandos," the dismounted carrier platoon of a Quebec infantry battalion which last month dug in on the left of St. Andre-Sur-Orne to protect the Canadian flank while other companies in the battalion pushed ahead.
